EGYPT HITS 'MAD UNDERTAKING'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Duel Heavily Damages Refinery, Port Suez

By The Associated Press

Egypt and Israel fought a roaring battle of artillery and mortars at the southern end of the Suez Canal Tuesday that caused heavy damage in Egypt's Port Suez. A huge refinery complex there was left blazing and Egypt charged the port's inhabited area was "almost demolished."

As the growing crisis reached the U.N. Security Council, the semiofficial Egyptian newspaper Al Ahram reported that several units of the Soviet fleet were on their way to Port Said at the north end of the canal. The ships were believed part of a destroyer, missle carrier and submarine force that left the port last month.

The Israeli bombardment was seen in Tel Aviv as Israel's answer to the sinking of the destroyer Elath by Egyptian missiles Saturday with the loss of 47 lives.

A Cairo communique claimed an Israeli Mirage jet was shot down and 10 tanks were destroyed, but this was denied in Tel Aviv. A later Egyptian communique said Egypt's gunners also destroyed four fuel dumps, three ammunition dumps and five rocket launchers.

Blame Traded

Each side accused the other of starting the battle. A report from U.N. observers in the Middle East said Israelis initiated artillery fire on a Port Suez refinery. Israel said it opened up on Port Suez only after Egyptians began firing from adjacent Port Ibrahim.

There was no word of casualties in Port Suez. Egypt had already evacuated about half the 250,000 population because of tension along the cease-fire line where the June war was halted with Israeli forces drawn up on the canal's east bank.

Israeli sources said two refineries came under attack in Port Suez along with oil tanks capable of holding 550,000 tons of oil. The Egyptians said oil tanks were afire but made no mention of the refineries.

80% Of Oil Needs

Informants in Tel Aviv said flames towered high above the refinery complex, which produces about 80% of Egypt's petroleum needs, when U.N. truce observers in the area arranged a cease-fire late in the day.

Cairo radio charged that even after the cease-fire was arranged, Israel's guns continued to pound industrial installations in Port Suez.

Officials in Cairo said Israel might try to escalate the crisis by attacking at other spots along the explosive cease-fire line.

The pounding of the refineries was expected to placate the Israelis who have been clamoring for revenge for the sinking of the Elath.

BILLY'S IN BUSINESS AGAIN

Billy Churchill of Satellite Beach, Fla., isn't dejected anymore. The governor of Florida, Claude Kirk, saw to that. Eleven-year-old Billy's sidewalk ice-pop stand was shut down by the county health department a month ago because he didn't have a permit or separate public restrooms. When Kirk found out about it, he ordered the stand reopened. And he was the first customer Tuesday. Billy even poured him a drink. Kirk, a Republican, said Billy's problem symbolized "a problem faced by millions of Americans: individual initiative stifled by governmental red tape and foolishly administered regulation."

Israel Invites Arabs To Talk

. . . SECURITY COUNCIL MEETS

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Egypt and Israel traded angry charges in the U.N. Security Council Tuesday night over the outbreak of fighting in the Suez Canal area, and the Soviet Union called on the council to condemn Israel.

Egypt accused Israel of a "mad undertaking" in the shelling of the city of Suez earlier in the day. Israel countered with a challenge to the Arab nations to meet with Israel to talk peace "at this time, under this roof."

Condemnation Urged

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko urged the council to give prompt approval to a resolution condemning Israel for the violence in the canal area, demanding compensation to Egypt for the damage caused and urgently requesting Israel to observe the cease-fire.

Britain and Canada proposed that the council immediately authorize appointment of a special representative to go to the Middle East to seek a peaceful settlement.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, referring to Fedorenko's statement as a "midnight rerun of this stale record," urged the council to "condemn any and all violations of the cease-fire" and call on the governments directly involved to observe the cease-fire scrupulously and cooperate fully with U.N. cease-fire observers.

Banditry Hit

Israeli Ambassador Gideon Rafael charged Egypt with "maritime lawlessness" and a "deliberate act of military escalation" in the sinking of the Israeli destroyer Ealth last Saturday.

He quoted what he said was an Arab proverb that "those who light a fire cannot ask protection from the flames."

"Reciprocity is the very essence of the case-fire," Rafael said. Without, it, he added, "the whole system collapses."

50 YEARS OF BOLSHEVISM . . .

Red Economic Revolt Ahead

New York Times Service

By H. ERICK HEINEMAN

This fall, as the Soviet Union celebrates the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, which established communism as a way of life in the world's largest country, a tantalizing question has arisen: is a new revolution brewing in Soviet economy?

This upheaval, if it comes, promises to be peaceful and, indeed, probably more of an evolution than a revolution. But it could well have as fundamental an effect on Russian life as the taking of the Winter Palace in 1917.

The prospect involves a basic relaxation of controls over Soviet life by the Communist Party, the replacement of a centrally-directed command economy by one largely governed by consumer demands.

Chronic Crisis

The crisis in the Soviet economy is not sharp. But it is chronic. It comes after Russia, under the driving direction of the party, has moved from near to last place among large countries, to a position second only to the United States in economic strength.

But now the rate of growth in the Soviet economy has started to drop. To get the country moving again, the new Kremlin technocrats have introduced sweeping reforms.

Business managers are getting increased authority to act on their own, without a plethora of minute instructions from Moscow. A new system of incentives is being introduced that ties rewards to profits rather than physical volume of output. Capital, which hithero had been dispensed without charge (and, not surprisingly, often wasted) will henceforth carry a price tag.

Ninth in a Series

Capitalist Sound

To western ears, all of this has a slightly capitalistic sound.

Indeed, the Chinese Communists maintain that the Russians have already decided to restore capitalism. Actually, there is no evidence of any real intention to modify the basic socialist character of the soviet economy.

The government will continue to own the means of production, allocate scarce supplies of men, materials and money among competing uses, and to control the price structure.

The big question is not

Virginia Man Found Guilty In LSD Sale

U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt Tuesday found a young Virginia man guilty of possession and illegal sale of LSD.

Philip Barron Shuman, 23, of Arlington, Va., was charged with one count of possession and four counts of illegal sale of the drug in connection with activities undertaken by him in May while a student at Hiram Scott College in Scottsbluff.

He was charged with selling the LSD tablets to special federal agents.

Van Pelt deferred sentencing pending further consideration of a report filed by the adult probation officer.

The drug offense calls for a maximum sentence of one year imprisonment and a fine of $1,000 on each count.

Van Pelt rejected Shuman's plea of no contest to the charges.

"The young man either sold LSD or he didn't — I will not accept that type of plea in this matter," the judge said.

Shuman responded with a plea of guilty.

14 Agriculture Groups Plan 'All-Farm' Board

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Representatives of 14 farm and agricultural commodity organizations established the beginnings of a statewide Agricultural Industries Council here Tuesday at an All-Farm Organization Meeting held to discuss bargaining and corporate farming.

State Grange Master Albert Ebers of Seward, who was chairman of the meeting, was also named interim chairman for the group that will work toward the development of the Agricultural Industries Council.

In a poll taken at the meeting, only three participants were in favor of terminating government farm programs after 1969, while 19 voted "No" to the question.

'Hands Off'

Only one person voted in favor of a "hands off" policy that would let things stay as they are now.

Twice as many of the delegates favored the restriction of huge corporate farming operations by law than opposed it.

Spokesmen for all groups expressed a desire to discuss farm problems and to seek goals that all groups could agree on as a purpose for an Agricultural Industries Council.

Mixed Support

Support for a Farm Bargaining Board was mixed. Some speakers rejected the idea, but others endorsed the measure.

M. L. Marshall of Washington, D.C., acting chief of livestock marketing practices for the Packers and Stockyards Administration, reviewed a study of the broiler industry. He outlined the plight of broiler producers who had complained of low incomes and lack of bargaining power from vertical integration practices in the industry.

Farm organization leaders spoke of pattering an Agricultural Industry Council after the Highway Users Council, where complete agreement of the group allows a council position on a matter.

One Voice

Wayne Allen of McCook, representing the Nebraska Wheat Growers, said the council would develop one voice for agriculture in Nebraska.

Ralph Raikes of Ashland, National Farm Credit member and a representative of the Nebraska Crop Improvement Association, said, "If we continue in disunity in agriculture nothing but chaos can result."

Elton Berck of Lincoln, president of the Nebraska Farmers Union, encouraged all organizations in agriculture to "get into the same boat" in supporting agriculture.

While some representatives of farm organizations or commodity groups said they could not speak for organization policy, they were confident of cooperation on problems of which all organizations could agree.

Attending the meeting were representatives of: Farmers Union, Farm Bureau, Grange, National Farmers Organization, Wheat Growers, Sorghum Producers, Nebraska Young Farmers Educational Association, Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association, Nebraska Turkey Federation, Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association, Nebraska Crop Improvement Association, Nebraska Co-op Council and the Extension Service.

Sentence Designed To Aid War Effort

A Grand Island man convicted of forcibly assaulting an Internal Revenue agent will spend 30 weekends in jail so that production of bombs for Vietnam will not be interrupted at the Grand Island Ordnance Plant.

John L. Guyant, 57, was sentenced Tuesday by U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt, who ordered Guyant held in the Hall County jail on weekend days, exclusive of the Christmas and Easter weekends, until he has served 60 days.

The remainder of the one-year sentence will then be suspended and Guyant will be placed on three years probation.

The judge said he ordered the unusual division of sentence to allow Guyant to continue what Van Pelt termed "important" defense work at the Grand Island Ordnance Plant.

Van Pelt explained that Guyant is an "important factor at the plant where he is an engineer in charge of men on the line loading bombs to go to Vietnam."

Guyant was convicted by a Federal Court jury in May with assaulting Internal Revenue Agent George Langdale of Grand Island. Guyant pulled a gun and threatened the agent at the latter's home in March, 1966.

Langdale had served notice of levy on Guyant's wages until a tax liability was paid.

Guyant's first trial in September, 1966, resulted in a hung jury.

Youth Is Sentenced To Die In 5 Killings

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)—A Superior Court jury Tuesday night found Robert Benjamin Smith guilty of first degree murder in the deaths of five persons in a Mesa beauty college and fixed his sentence at death.

The seven women and five men returned their verdict after deliberating two hours.

The defense had pictured the 19-year-old onetime honor student as a friendless, insane youth, killing to seek an identity. The state portrayed him as publicity-seeking killer who planned the Nov. 12 mass murders in minute detail.

Killed as they lay on the floor like spokes of a wheel were three beauty college students, Mrs. Carol Farmer, 19, Mary Olsen, 18, and Glenda Carter, 18; a customer, Mrs. Joyce Sellers, 27, and a daughter, Tamara, 3.

Debra Sellers, 3-month-old daughter of Mrs. Sellers, and one student, Mrs. Bonita Sue Harris Canteloup, were wounded but survived.

Mrs. Canteloup, the state's key witness, told of playing dead after she was shot in the head and arm. She pointed to Smith as the killer.

Defense Plea 'Insanity'

Defense lawyer Rod Wood told the jury in his closing arguments he did not question that Smith was at the Rose Mar Beauty College last Nov. 12, but he added: "If the boy was insane, there is no crime."

The court allowed the prsecution to introduce Smith's statement to police as evidence. In it, Smith said he "got the idea about killing some people" about three months before the shootings.

It told how "when they were all down, I shot them in the head twice, I had to reload about three times," and added, "I didn't think there would be any kids when I planned this."

Blame Unimportant To Some Auto Insurers, Reports Say

New York Times Service

Washington—House investigators said Tuesday it was common practice for some auto insurance companies to penalize policyholders for accidents regardless of who was to blame.

Kenneth R. Harkins, chief counsel of a House judiciary subcommittee, based the conclusion on an analysis by his staff of 520 complaints received from policyholders during a recent study.

He described as typical several cases outlined last week in a staff report to the full Judiciary Committee.

Hit-Run Victim

One of them involved a man whose car had been struck by hit-and-run drivers twice. The company that had carried his insurance notified him it would not be renewed.

"Our statistics," the company said, "indicate that drivers involved in accidents have a greater tendency to be involved in future accidents. This has applied to drivers that have been involved both in fault and nonfault accidents.

"The circumstances revolving around your two moving type accidents do not appear to be the fault of your driving. However, considering the potential future accidents, and our company's underwriting standards, we have advised your agent that our company would be unable to continue the insurance."

Rates Jacked Up

In another case, a company increased a man's rates by 30%, or $36 a year, because of an accident. The man hired a lawyer in an effort to prove to the company that the accident was not his fault.

A vice president of the company said in a letter to the lawyer it did not matter "who was to blame for the accident," that it "is the occurrence of the accident which counts." He cited "very extensive actuarial studies" of "the relationship between the occurrences of accidents in the past and the probabilities in the future."

A third case involved a policyholder whose car was damaged in a parking lot. Six months later it was struck in the rear by another vehicle while stopped at a traffic light. The company notified the man the policy would not be renewed.

Decision On Charges In Death Still Pending

Lancaster County Attorney Paul Douglas said Tuesday a determination will definitely be made Wednesday morning as to whether charges will be filed against a Lincoln man being held in connection with the death of his wife.

Douglas said that Dwain D. Folsom, 44, of 4442 Adams, who is being held on an open charge, will be arraigned sometime Wednesday if charges are filed.

He said his office was not in the case until after the autopsy was performed on Folsom's wife, Barbara, who died Sunday evening at Bryan Memorial Hospital after being admitted Saturday morning showing what hospital authorities termed "signs of a beating."

Douglas declined to comment on the results of the autopsy, which was ordered by the hospital which is normal procedure, Douglas said.

Douglas said that Folsom's attorney, Leonard Dunker, had informed him that he would be in the county attorney's office at 2 p.m. Tuesday, but was involved in county court on another matter and Douglas was unable to see him until nearly 4 p.m. when Douglas interrupted the court proceeding to talk with Dunker.

Dunker told the Lincoln Star that there was no arraignment Tuesday at his request.

He said his client was scheduled to be given more lie detector tests Tuesday night.

Biggest Raid Rubs Out North's Top Air Field

World News

Saigon (AP)—U.S. warplanes rubbed out North Vietnam's largest air base Tuesday in the biggest single air strike of the war.

Pilots said they demolished the Phuc Yen field, 18 miles northwest of Hanoi, previously a Pentagon-forbidden target.

In Washington, Pentagon officials said the coordinated strike by Air Force, Navy and Marine fliers was prompted by recently increased aggressiveness by Communist MIGs.

9 MIGs Hit

Pilots reported Wednesday they destroyed or damaged four MIG21s, four MIG17s and one MIG15 on the ground at Phuc Yen. In addition, they shot one MIG21 out of the skies in an aerial dogfight and blew up at least three missile sites. They reported the 9,170-foot runway heavily cratered and out of commission.

It had been expected that three per cent or more of the U.S. raiders would be lost. As it turned out, exuberant planners reported, not one plane was lost to the MIGs, flak and missiles thrown up in defense of the base.

American officers would not reveal the exact number of Air Force, Navy and Marine jets scheduled for the raid. It was, however, more than 100 jets, mostly from Air Force bases in Thailand.

2 Jets Down Elsehwere

U.S. headquarters announced that two American jets were downed elsewhere in North Vietnam on Tuesday and that both pilots were rescued. The Communists claimed they shot down nine planes and captured some of the pilots.

Pentagon permission to strike the previously banned Phuc Yen target came down Monday. The planning staff of the 7th Air Force commander, Lt. Gen. William Momyer, was given primary responsibility and alerted aircraft from three Air Force fighter wings in Thailand. The Marines from the big base at Da Nang and Navy pilots from two carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin got second strike orders.

The orders spelling out the precise times, armament and missions in the raid were in secret "ready rooms" early Tuesday.

An awesome weight of bombs was loaded aboard the planes—supersonic F4 Phantoms, F105 Thunderchiefs, A4 Skyhawks and F8 Crusaders. Many carried whopping 3,000-pounders that make freight car-sized craters.

In midafternoon, final orders were given. The Air Force pilots from the Thai base at Ubon, Korat and Takli flashed into the air for the biggest and most precisely coordinated combat mission ever flown by all save a few veteran pilots of World War II.

Despite the painstaking advance planning, the atmosphere was tense in the command centers in Saigon as the jets went in.

Reports came in that flights were dodging an unusual number of "flying telephone poles," the big Russian-built SAM missiles. The elusive North Vietnamese air force was up. Hopes dropped that many MIGs would be caught on the ground.

At the precise strike time, the first Air Force jets from Thailand nosed down to rake the Red antiaircraft sites ringing Phuc Yen in greater numbers than almost any other targets except Hanoi and Haiphong.

Reds Fire All

"They must have had some melted gun barrels down there after the raid," a staff officer reported." They were firing everything they had."

On the heels of the flak-suppression jets came the heavily laden Thunderchiefs spewing rockets, machine guns and bombs on the target which the pilots have been yearning to hit for two long years.

Overhead, the North Vietnamese MIGs tried to break through to the fighter-bombers. One was shot down and another probably knocked from the sky.

The Air Force-Navy raid on Phuc Yen left only one of North Vietnam's six MIG air bases still unhit by American bombers. This was the base at Gia Lam, just outside Hanoi, which serves also as North Vietnam's main civilian international airport.

Feistier MIGs Led To Strike

Washington (AP)—North Vietnamese MIGs outkilled American jets by a 6-2 margin in recent aerial dog fights, leading to the first U.S. air strike on the key Phuc Yen airfield 18 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The Pentagon provided Tuesday the figures on the kill ratio, and on a significant increase in combat sorties by North Vietnams revived air force.

The Defense Department said, "We have shot down only two MIGs and lost six of our own" planes between late August and mid-October.

This was a reversal of the better than 3-1 advantage in combat kills U.S. pilots scored over the North Vietnamese throughout much of the air war which began in February 1965.

Limited American Arms Delivery To Israel, 5 Arab States To Resume

Washington (AP)—The United States announced Tuesday that it will resume, in a limited way, deliveries of U.S. arms to Israel and five Arab countries.

The long-anticipated U.S. action ends the embargo on U.S. weapons shipments to the Middle East imposed by Washington since last June's six-day war.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey indicated U.S. desires to curb the arms flow to the tinderbox area had run into counter-pressures from heavy Soviet shipments and offers to the Arabs plus needs by America's Mideast friends to keep up their defenses, previously stocked with U.S. equipment.

He emphasized that only "selected items of military material" will be sent under the U.S. decision, which he said was made some time ago — before last weekend's sinking of an Israeli destroyer off Egyptian shores and the current Washington visit of Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Iban.

"This is not in any sense an open-ended decision nor an opening of the flood gates," he said.

Israel is slated to get three dozen Skyhawk A4 jet fighter-bombers which had been promised last year for delivery starting in December. She will also receive parts, repair equipment and components for items like radios which are assembled in Israel, McCloskey said.

The five Arab states—Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Morocco, Libya and Tunisia — are to be supplied mainly with communications equipment, trucks, repair parts and construction materials plus "a small number of aircraft" for Libya and Morocco, he said.

Nearly all the items were on order before the Arab-Israeli war broke out and in some cases the countries had already made payment. McCloskey said only a small portion was in U.S. gift aid, the remainder being bought by the Middle East countries with their own funds.

Jordan was not included in the embargo repeal at this time. Like the other Arab five, Jordan has pursued a comparatively moderate policy since the war and has traditionally received its weapons from Western countries.

Cost Of Living In City Found Up 50% Since '59

© New York Times Service

Washington — The amount of money a typical city worker's family needs to achieve a moderate standard of living has risen since 1959 by roughly 50%, to more than $9,000 a year, the government reported Tuesday.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said part of the rise reflected price increases. But it said a larger share resulted from an upgrading by consumers of their spending habits as real earnings climbed.

Arthur M. Ross, commissioner of labor statistics, said that spending appeared to have risen in tandem with earnings and that the average consumer today is in about the same economic squeeze as in 1959.

The report said that in general the biggest budget for moderate living was needed in the Northeastern states, with the New York-northeastern New Jersey region leading with a figure of $10,195. But this was outstripped by Honolulu, where the figure was $11,190, and by an even higher but unreported level in Alaska.

The report painted a picture of shifting consumer demands, including a strong trend since 1959 toward home-owning and a sharp rise in most cities in automobile ownership. The budget took into account a shift to increased emphasis on casual clothing, dining out, dental care, alcohol and wine drinking and smoking, and less frequent use of fatty foods and beer and fewer haircuts for boys.

Ross emphasized that the report was based on the financial needs of a so-called standard four-member family, and that the needs of other families would differ.

Earth Movers Locate 'Lost' Covered Wagon

Ogallala (AP)—A search that spanned a century and three generations of a western Nebraska family has achieved success.

Earth movers on the Interstate Highway have brought to the surface part of a Contesoga wagon which sank in the quicksand on the Oregon Trail near Brule about 1860.

They are on the lookout for more parts of the wagon or its cargo as work progresses.

The search started with a story told by James Gray, a settler, about a pioneer family which lost its wagon and all its belongings in the quicksand about five miles west of what is now Brule. Gray passed the story on to his son, C. B. Douglas in about 1906, and Douglas passed it on to his son, Lee Douglas of Ogallala.

When Lee Douglas heard dredging operations were to start in the area, he asked Walt Gake of Lincoln, a forman for the Stewart Construction Co., Lincoln, to keep watch for remains of the wagon.

Several days later Gake's dirt mover brought up an iron brake shaft from the wagon. It was still in good shape with the hand-welded areas still good and the hand-threaded nuts and bolts still intact.

This shaft was designed to be bolted to the box attached above the rear wheels of the wagon and attached to wooden brake shoes that applied pressure to the wheels during descents of steep inclines.

Douglas donated the shaft to the Keith County Historical Society.

United Fund Campaign Reaches 50% Of Goal

With just 10 days left in the 1968 Campaign, volunteers in the Lincoln-Lancaster United Fund reported Tuesday a total of $451,179, or 50% of the total goal.

Campaign chairman John E. Olsson reported that "the increase on contributions received is generally good, however, the returns are coming in too slowly. We need an accelerated effort by workers and contributors alike if we are to wrap this campaign up in ten days."

The special gifts division reported a total of $132,948 or 78% of their goal.

Mrs. Max Schuster, reporting for the women's division announced a total of 47%, or $7,721.

Congdon Paulson, assistant chairman of the business and government division reported a total of $11,343 or 52% of the goal.

Unit Firm Chairman, Charles Arnold reported he was still lagging the field with 39%, a total of $187,172. Western Power & Gas, the largest unit firm reporting Tuesday, contributed $17,885.00—a 10% increase.

Arnold was awarded a bottle of iced Geritol by Chairman John E. Olsson.

The next report meeting will be Friday noon at the Lincoln Center.

Rites Thursday For Milford Man Killed By Train

Milford—Funeral services for Perry Stutzman, 82-year-old retired Milford farmer, will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Bellwood Mennonite Church here.

Mr. Stutzman lost his life Monday afternoon when the car in which he was a passenger stalled on the railroad tracks at the Walnut St. crossing in Milford and was struck by a westbound Burlington freight train.

The driver of the car, Dennis Stutzman, 22, also of Milford managed to get out of the car before it was hit. He was a grandson of the elderly Mr. Stutzman.

The victim is survived by a son, Lloyd of Wauseon, Ohio; daughters, Mrs. Floyd (Meriel) Stauffer, Mrs. Ray (Vada) Stutzman and Mrs. Orie (Berdean) Oswald, all of Milford; sisters, Mrs. Lee (Alma) Schweitzer and Mrs. Emery (Ada) Schweitzer, both of Milford; 22 grandchildren and 33 great grandchildren.

Independence Set For Nauru Island

Canberra, Australia (AP) — The Pacific island of Nauru, 12 miles in diameter and with a population of 5,000, will get its independence next year from the joint trusteeship of Britain, Australia and New Zealand.

Nauru, 2,000 miles northeast of Australia, was under British administration from 1920 until 1947, when the United Nations approved its trusteeship status. Phosphates provide its main income.

Castle Heads Group

Peru (UPI) — Mike Castle, junior from Falls City, has been elected president of the Peru State College chapter of the Student Education Association of Nebraska. Castle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Castle of Falls City.

Omaha Marine's Rites Thursday

Omaha (UPI) — Funeral services will be held here Thursday for Marine Lance Cpl. John H. Kavulak, 20, who was killed in South Vietnam on Sept. 21.

The services will be at 9 a.m. at the Brewer-Korisko chapel. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery with military honors.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Wilhelmina Lankton; two brothers, two step-brothers, his step-father, and a step-sister.

R. W. Zeilinger, David City, Dies; Born In Dugout

David City — Funeral services were held here Tuesday for Richard W. Zeilinger, 95, lifelong resident of this community.

He was born in a dugout in Butler County. For many years he and his brother operated a hardware store in David City.

Surviving are his wife, Elizabeth, a patient in the David City hospital; a daughter, Mrs. Ray Sabata of David City; son, District Judge John Zeilinger of York; and several grandchildren.

Wilson Appearing Before Federal Grand Jury Soon

North Platte (AP) — U.S. Attorney Theodore Richling of Omaha said arrangements had been made for Larry Harold Wilson, 26, to appear before a federal grant jury in Omaha some time this month or early in November in connection with the holdup of the Elm Creek State Bank Oct. 9.

Nebraska News

Wilson, a former resident of south central Nebraska who has been living at Auburn, Wash., has been held in the Lincoln County jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

He was captured by an FBI agent at Arapahoe, a few hours after the robbery, and the $2,113 loot was recovered.

In appearance at Cozad before U.S. Commissioner William Trusdale last Wednesday, Wilson waived preliminary hearing and appointment of counsel.

Omaha U, NU Merger Vote Set Dec. 12

Omaha (AP) — Voters will ballot Dec. 12 on a proposal to merge the University of Omaha with the University of Nebraska, the OU Board of Regents decided.

The vote will come on the same day as a $12,600,000 city bond issue program.

Attorney W. Ross King said the wording on the issue, as set by law, would read:

"Shall the board of regents of the Municipal University of Omaha transfer and convey all the campus property belonging to the Municipal University of Omaha to the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, for the purpose of establishing a university to be known as the University of Nebraska at Omaha, and to be under the control and management of the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, all as provided by Legislative Bill 73, of the 77th session, Nebraska State Legislature, 1967?"

Columbus Blaze Laid To Arson

Columbus (UPI) — Arson has been blamed in a fire which slightly damaged a vacant apartment house here.

Columbus Fire Chief Harry Blahak said his firemen quickly extinguished the blaze and then found seven or eight other places throughout the house where fire had been set and had gone out.

The house is owned by Anna Maye Carter of Columbus.

A large number of officials of the state fire marshal's office were here for a state convention and were participating in a parade shortly before the alarm was received.

Crash At Lynch Kills Driver, 20

Lynch (UPI)—Richard F. Gappa, 20, Loup City, was killed early Tuesday in a one-car accident on Highway 12 one-half mile from here.

His eastbound car left the road and hit a culvert.

A passenger was injured and transferred to a Wagner, S.D., hospital.

Gappa had been a construction worker in the Verdel area.

$2.5 Million Hospital For York Is Eyed

York (AP)—A new hospital 2½ times as large as the present York General Hospital, has been described by F. W. Molgren, hospital administrator.

A public subscription campaign will be the first step in construction of the new facility. This campaign calls for a total subscription of $600,000 before the hospital can qualify for long term loans amounting to $900,000 and Hill-Burton federal grants of $750,000.

Total cost of the facility, completely equipped, has been estimated at $2.5 million, E. A. Levitt, president of the hospital board, said.

105-Bed Structure

Molgren said the 105-bed two-story structure, would have an acute general facility of 65 beds and a one-story connecting unit for the long-term cases with 40 beds.

All supporting facilities, including the mechanical plant, will have sufficient capacity to provide for addition of as many as 40 more beds in the acute facility and 60 in the long-term care unit.

41 Buffaloes Purchased At First Public Auction

By GARY CLAXTON
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Valentine — The Fort Niobrara National Wildlife Refuge, about five miles east of here, was founded in 1913 for the protection of buffalo, which at that time were near extinction. The sale netted $22,350.

Increased herd population in subsequent years made it possible Tuesday for the first public auction of live buffaloes from a national wildlife refuge.

The auction was held in conjunction with the 25th annual public longhorn auction at the Fort Niobrara salering.

During the day, 41 longhorns and 41 buffaloes, 20 male and 20 female, were sold. The longhorns sold for $7,105.

Buyers from at least 10 states including California, Oregon and Georgia, bid on the animals offered singly and in occasional double lots.

"We'll winter about 275 head of buffalo and 245 longhorns after the disposal," Robert Fields, refuge manager, said. "Our capacity is 300 of each type." The 19,000 acre refuge also supports about 50 head of elk, he said.

Extinction No Problem

Fields explained that previous buffalo sales had included only butchered meat and live buffalo by application only. Placing animals on an open auction block indicates that extinction is no longer a problem, he said.

However, this year only eight older bulls have been butchered for clubs and service organizations, he said.

Longhorns were introduced at the refuge in 1936 when six calves were located here to start a herd.

"We try to keep a variety of animals in the herd," Field said. "Even though animals are sold, we do maintain certain horn or color characteristics."

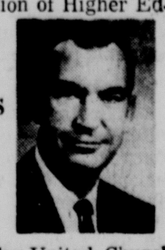

Fields said all animals sold were considered surplus and would be used primarily as breeding stock.

The top longhorn price of $350 was paid by William Sidley, of Encampment, Wyo., for a three year old steer.

Triple U Enterprises Inc. of Pierre, S.D., and Harry Pon of Arcadia, Calif., collectively bought all but four of the 40 buffalo. Top buffalo price was $925 for a yearling heifer.

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

We have no quarrel with the city's Public Works Department on its recommendation in regard to the proposed Northeast Diagonal. The department has done just as it should be expected to do — recommend that which it considers to be the ideal thing for Lincoln.

But we have a quarrel with the City Council. The job of the City Council is to take the recommendation of administrative agencies and make a decision based on the most intelligent application of all the facts.

This the council has not done and shows no intention of doing. It has procrastinated in regard to the diagonal for years now and appears no closer to a final determination of the matter than has ever been the case.

The recommendation of the administrative branch is to wait with the diagonal until the city can afford the approximate $20 million freeway called for by consultants. In the meantime, we would improve such streets as No. 27th in order to give some kind of relief for traffic coming and going in the north and northeast parts of the city.

Now, there are those who will agree with this and some of them feel we need no diagonal, at all. The diagonal is closely related to the Stevens Creek area and its highly controversial prospects for residential development.

But it is our opinion that we need the diagonal and should get started on it immediately. To do otherwise is to artificially restrict the growth of Lincoln northeast and to contribute to public inconvenience and business loss in the process.

If we follow the recommendations of the city's administrative agency, we will not have a diagonal by the turn of the next century. It is fine to speculate on an improved economic picture in the future but it will not materialize.

It is star-gazing to think ahead to a day when we might better afford to construct this facility. We have a hundred years of progress behind us and we have never yet experienced a day when things financially have gotten easier than they were.

Public funds are always hard to come by and always will be. Additionally, the character of the city will change over the years and the diagonal that now is estimated at $20 million would cost us twice that in another 20 years. We can remember when this facility was supposed to cost not much more than $1 million.

If you keep waiting long enough, everything approaches a grand scale. If we were still riding horses, it would be a traumatic and costly thing to switch to the automobile.

We have already delayed the diagonal until it has become as much of a joke as a serious consideration. A diagonal is supposed to be a line across a distance but we have transformed it into a million twists and turns.

★

Capitol Parkway, the southeast twin to the northeast diagonal, is not a freeway, either, and it should be, but at least we have something there and it is carrying a big load of traffic. Something is still better than nothing at all.

At the moment, the right-of-way for the northeast project can be acquired at minimum costs but this will not always be the case. There are large chunks of this right-of-way that could be gobbled up for all sorts of developments and the price of the land for street purposes could soar.

We recognize that there are a lot of choices in this matter and a lot of things good and bad for various arguments. But we still are able to make up our minds.

Lincoln should get started on the northeast diagonal without further delay, settling for whatever it can afford or whatever the people are willing to spend. The City Council is deserving of serious criticism for every week it lets pass without making up its mind one way or another on this project.

RUTH MONTGOMERY
Motley Group Among Republican Possibles

WASHINGTON — If fence-sitting nations doubt that affluent America is still a melting pot for diverse races and creeds, they should direct their attention to the upcoming battle for the Republican presidential nomination.

In all probability the standard-bearer will be a Mormon, a Quaker, a Christian-Scientist, a divorced Baptist, or the divorced son of an Irish-Catholic father and Protestant mother. Four are self-made millionaires who began life in poverty, one is a grandson of the world's first billionaire, and two could undoubtedly become millionaires if they stuck to law instead of politics.

George Romney, a devout Mormon whose grandfather practiced polygamy, performed stoop-labor in sugar-beet fields, and later served as a foreign missionary before striking it rich in the automotive industry as president of American Motors.

Richard M. Nixon, a Quaker, clerked in his father's corner grocery, worked his way through college in menial tasks, and missed becoming president by a whisker in 1960, before amassing a sizeable bank account as a Wall Street lawyer.

☆ ☆ ☆

Charles H. Percy, a Christian Scientist, lived on welfare with his parents during part of the great depression, stoked furnaces, sold his mother's home-baked cookies door-to-door, and worked his way through college as an entrepreneur, before becoming president of Bell & Howell at 29, and subsequently a millionaire.

Nelson Rockefeller, son of a man who devoted his life to giving away large hunks of the astronomical fortune amassed by his father, won the governorship of New York and seemed well on his way to the White House, when he shed his wife of 31 years to marry a young woman who had left her husband and four children to join him. But his star is again rising, because of his impressive ability.

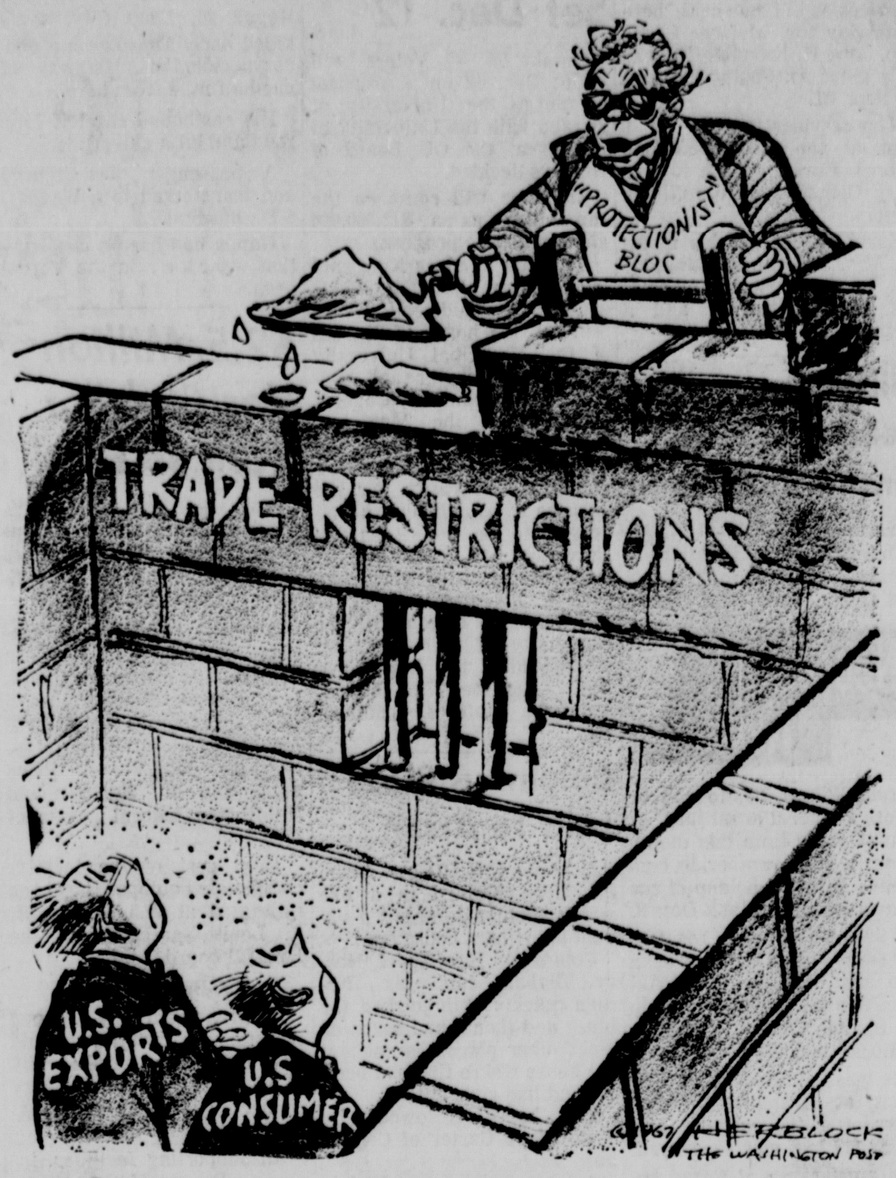

Ronald Reagan, whose Irish-Catholic father was an itinerant shoe salesman, worked his way through college waiting tables in fraternities, served as a labor leader (president of the left-ist-leaning Screen Actors Guild), led a successful strike against the film industry, was divorced by actress Jane Wyman for his political activities, made a fortune in movies, and turned conservative after his marriage to the daughter of a world famous neurosurgeon.

☆ ☆ ☆

A more diverse group of men could scarcely be assembled under one party umbrella, but any one of them has a chance to become president of these United States, either through election or the disability of a future chief executive.

"I Want To Protect You Against Foreign Salesmen"

McGovern In Reasonable Dissent

It was a reasonable and constructive dissent offered in Lincoln by South Dakota's Sen. George McGovern to our present policy in Vietnam. This is in sharp contrast to some of the more violent criticisms that are cast upon this policy and their usual lack of facts and alternatives.

We are not agreed with McGovern that the Vietnam conflict is "largely a civil conflict" but the Democratic senator had more than this to say. He challenged us to make a greater effort toward a defensive containment of the communists in Vietnam as the means to finally ending that conflict.

He went on to challenge thinking that has dominated our foreign affairs since the end of World War II. This thinking is that we cannot live with communism anywhere in the world and must challenge every territorial gain it might make. He suggests that we come to let such matters be determined by nations themselves and that we live, if it so develops, with communist governments that come into being.

The basis behind this is that communism lacks the cohesiveness to become a worldwide, single entity and, thus, remains a threat only on an individual nation basis. Certainly, recent years have indicated this and we have failed to adequately consider it.

But what McGovern still lacks is a solution to communist subversive activities of a political and military nature. Any such policy as he advocates would have to provide for our commitments to assist free nations in the defense of their land from aggressive tactics of the communists.

Blondes, Curves Still Favored

Homecoming's not what it used to be.

Not only is a boy — with the unlikely name of Mason Dickson — running for the honor of homecoming queen at Texas Christian University, but out in Santa Monica, Calif., a 35-year-old mother of two wants to be homecoming queen.

Apparently the image of the homecoming queen as a blue-eyed blonde with schoolgirl curves is being erased. Hopefully Nebraska will be spared. Not that there's anything wrong with 35-year-old mothers. Some of our best friends are 35-year-old mothers.

But as homecoming queen?

And wouldn't you know it? She's passing out pieces of apple pie in her campaign. She's running on a motherhood and apple pie campaign. There's no word on what the other candidates say about her campaign tactics. But then, how do you compete against motherhood and apple pie?

As for the Texas Christian lad, well, we hope he wins. The Nebraska Cornhuskers play TCU down there this weekend and his victory could enhance NU's chances. The Horned Frogs will be so busy laughing, they'll be pushovers for Nebraska.

There's probably nothing wrong with 35-year-old mothers being homecoming queen. And if he wants to, it's probably OK for a boy to strive for the same honor. (Although he'll probably regret it some day.)

But we prefer blue-eyed blondes with curves. They're as American as motherhood and apple pie.

DREW PEARSON
California Turns To Its Smog Problems; Auto Industry Opposes Stricter Control

WASHINGTON — Rep. John Dingell, the Detroit Democrat, is a great defender of the public interest when it comes to almost everything except automobiles. Regarding these he has been a vigorous, effective inside lobbyist for the motor moguls.

Right now Dingell is in the middle of some backstage jockeying over curtailing smog in Los Angeles and California generally. The issue has come up as a result of the air pollution control bill which the Senate passed last summer permitting California to set tougher standards to curb motor exhaust fumes than the federal government may set. Purpose of the Senate amendment was to allow California to be tougher than the rest of the country because of the serious situation faced by Los Angeles. There 90 per cent of air pollution comes from motor vehicles.

When the Senate bill reached the House Commerce Committee, of which Detroit's Dingell is a member, he assumed his role as auto industry lobbyist. Guided by Lloyd Cutler, efficient attorney for the auto industry, and Tom Mann, president of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, Dingell rammed through the commerce committee a provision that federal standards for auto exhaust fumes would prevail rather than any tougher standards by the states.

Dingell's bill would permit a state such as California to prove that it needed tougher standards, but in view of the present position of HEW bureaucrats, this would be difficult, perhaps impossible.

Dingell's neat campaign now faces the unanimous opposition of California congressmen. Even conservative Sen. George Murphy, a Republican, has united with such California liberals as John Moss of Sacramento and Lionel Van Deerlin of San Diego to battle against Dingell. Sen. Murphy claims that Dingell is betraying the health of the public.

It's also claimed that the exhaust control device Detroit put on 1966 and 1967 models sold in California has not been working effectively, that if fails to function after a car operates around 5,000 miles.

The legislation is due to be threshed out in the House of Representatives in the next few days.

The black rebellion is now spreading across the country into the Negro neighborhoods of the smaller cities. It doesn't seem to matter that these cities have had good relations in the past.

In Tacoma, Wash., for instance, black militants are talking about violence as the only way to win equality.

At a recent closed-door meeting, Les MacIntosh and Bob Redwine, two black militants from nearby Seattle, told a group of angry young Negroes that marching might not be enough to bring changes.

"We must exhaust every means at our disposal in the community," MacIntosh said. "If that doesn't work, then we might have to knock off a couple of cops."

MacIntosh's speech points up the frustrations of Negroes in the state of Washington, despite the fact that both senators, Warren Magnuson and Henry (Scoop) Jackson, have been in the forefront of the civil rights fight on Capitol Hill.

Just a few months ago, Gov. Dan Evans sought MacIntosh's aid when it appeared that race riots were brewing in Seattle. MacIntosh helped to cool things off.

Now, however, he says he isn't sure he did the right thing.

Redwine, a young, skinny SNCC worker who calls whites "Honkeys" like Rap Brown and poses like George Lincoln Rockwell with a corncob pipe, told Tacoma's angry young men that he and MacIntosh would not appear as leaders in the Tacoma activities.

"We're just here to advise you," he said. Then he took his handpicked "leaders" aside for more words "so these honkeys can't hear us," referring to two sympathetic whites who had been admitted to the meeting.

MARQUIS CHILDS
Rep. Edith Green, Crusader

WASHINGTON — If you saw her behind the desk of the principal of the junior high school, you would find her entirely in character. It is hard to believe that this prim, rather severe-looking woman is the scourge of the poverty program and the tireless haunt of the executive branch of government.

That is the role Rep. Edith Green is cast in as she hacks away at the Office of Economic Opportunity in its marathon ordeal before the House. Should the poverty program be rejected in the showdown — and no one can be sure of the outcome—Mrs. Green as much as any single individual will have been responsible.

What they say about her in the offices downtown where they struggle to keep the poverty program afloat—her code name is smiling cobra — is on the unprintable side. The most well-intentioned suggestion from her angriest critics is that the lady from Oregon would benefit from a long, long vacation. But, whatever the brickbats or the bouquets, Mrs. Green goes her intense, dedicated way undeterred.

In a man's world she has come to a position of great influence. There are only 12 women among the 535 members of Congress — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith in the Senate and 11 in the House. While at least two women in the House outrank Mrs. Green, serving her seventh term, by reason of her strategic place as the No. 2 Democrat on the Committee on Education and Labor, she is probably No. 1 in the power she exercises.

But it is not merely seniority that has sent the lady from Oregon into orbit. Friend and foe alike agree that she works indefatigably. With the zeal of a Puritan avenger, she has followed every step of the OEO bill through the committee, often engaging in sharp skirmishes for her own amendments that would correct one or the other of what she considers the many gross errors or worse on the part of the poverty administrators.

Against the poverty program? Why, of course, she isn't against the program. It is here, to the puzzlement of fellow Democrats who often find her as trying as do the administrators, that she parts company with the Republicans who fight OEO. She says, in fact, that unless the program is greatly expanded, the riots of next year will be far worse than those of the past summer.

Waste, waste, waste, that is the villain she pursues with the zeal of a schoolmistress calling on her pupils to use the smallest pieces of chalk when they go to the blackboard. No one can doubt her earnestness. But the theme of waste and excessive spending happens to have a high political priority and no one would ever accuse Mrs. Green of being politically naive. Her fellow Oregonians in Congress say she is so entrenched in her district in Portland that her re-election next year is taken for granted.

In her handsome suite in the Rayburn Office Building, Mrs. Green talks of the small details of economy in the manner of a careful housekeeper looking over the grocery list. She has been shown a table of organization for a new poverty office in New York calling for eight water coolers. And why, she asks, can't they drink water out of the tap? Wastebaskets were shown as distributed in the same generous profusion.

Recently Mrs. Green visited a Job Corps center training women to be nurses aides — she has steadily pushed to increase the ratio of women to men in this program, fostering one amendment that would have put the corps eventually on a 50-50 basis. She says she found 39 trainees and 39 personnel at a cost she insists is far in excess of similar training in the public school system in the District of Columbia.

Such examples come in profusion when Mrs. Green rises on the floor of the House to excoriate the bureaucracy. She does not deny that OEO itself, as a proliferating, costly, wasteful agency in her view, is her real target. Along with a Republican bloc she has recommended turning major segments of the poverty program over to Health, Education and Welfare, Labor and other established departments. This is the imminent peril that OEO faces — dismemberment — when the bill reaches the floor of the House next month.

Along with most of the Oregon delegation Mrs. Green is a passionate dove on Vietnam. She has signed most of the letters to the President originating in the House calling for a pause in the bombing.

"Someone has written," she says, "that the reason for my position on the povery program is because I was not named Secretary of HEW. After all, if you follow that logic, I have been far more critical of the Secretary of State and the Secretary of Defense, so why shouldn't I be named to either of those offices?"

Brevity in letters is requested but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that needless details and repetitious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by writer's true name but may be submitted for publication under a pen name or initials. However, letters will be printed under a pen name or initials at the editor's discretion.

How Much?

Lincoln, Neb.

Regarding the editorial, "Should We Draft Capital?" in The Star of October 17, while enumerating three of the 3,000 things wrong with drafting leaders of big business for the war effort, the writer makes the following statement:

"And that's another thing: The war remains undeclared. How much can a nation that is not officially at war reasonably ask of its citizens?"

Might not thousands of servicemen dying in Vietnam have asked the same question?

Halt To Spending

Fullerton, Neb.

We are now paying a federal income tax of 20% or more. The state income tax will be 10 to 15%. So with all our hidden taxes, it will soon mean that two-thirds of our dollar will be going for taxes.

The law seems to be in favor of physicians, lawyers, dentists, public stenographers, etc., who are self-employed — the white-collar workers. The blue-collar workers, we common folks, are taking the load.

In my opinion, the lawmakers are put into office by the people of the state to protect the state from poverty, and we will see this poverty within five years if we do not put a stop to all this. We should wake up and protect our freedom. We should look into all public offices spending money, combing them with a fine-tooth comb to see where funds are going for worthless projects.

Let's see if we can have a free state without poverty before it is too late.

Road To Socialism

Lincoln, Neb.

Wasn't Huskerville housing pretty substandard stuff? I believe the Lincoln Housing Authority gained quite a lot of its accumulated funds from Huskerville rentals. Now they are promoting the passage of a minimum housing code for Lincoln residents to further the government in the housing business.

Housing rightfully belongs in the hands of private investors and individual owners. Then it is taxable property and can properly support sanctioned governmental activity. Removing private property from the tax rolls further jeopardizes individuals' rights to own property and takes more property off the tax rolls.

The more property the Housing Authority has jurisdiction of, the further we are on the road to socialism.

Demonstrations

Lincoln, Neb.

I think this country is the wrong place for anti-war protests and demonstrations, because so many times America has declared that we as well as South Vietnam are ready to sit at the peace table. Ho Chi Minh pays no attention because of the war-mongers.

It is obvious that recent demonstrations, simultaneous in Washington and other capitals over the world, are directed with one thing in mind — to conquer the free world. Let's not be foolish as far as our young people are concerned. They are not yet familiar with communist villainy.

Whence Justice?

Lincoln, Neb.

Maybe you won't think this is even five cents worth, but here it is, anyway.

Where has justice gone? I just read the article about those three boys who were arrested for wearing women's clothes and I think they got left out when it came to justice.

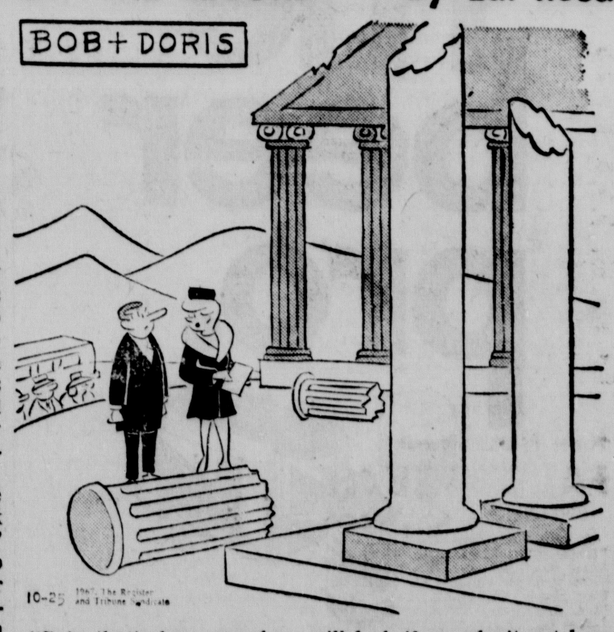

The law says "unlawful in a public place." Is an apartment a public place?

How does it happen that women aren't arrested for wearing men's apparel (pants or jeans and shirts) in public places and on the streets at all times?

Understand me — I don't approve of either sex wearing the other's clothes and wish it could be stopped. But right is right, and this is not right, especially since those involved apparently were not in public, but in an apartment, and since women wear men's clothes.

Occupation Survey OKd By Ed Board

. . . TO DETERMINE FUTURE JOB NEEDS OF AREA

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

A proposed survey of the number and kinds of trained people that will be needed in Lancaster County for the next few years received approval of the Lincoln Board of Education here Tuesday.

The study, expected to be completed by Jan. 1, will be performed cooperatively by the Division of Vocational and Continuing Education and the Nebraska Occupational Needs Research Coordinating Unit.

Vocational Needs analyst Ed Schwartzkopf told the school board that a sampling of some 25% of the employers in the county would allow the schools to project major vocational programs.

'Won't Be Faced'

"We won't be faced with having to offer them on a crisis basis when a need is discovered," he explained.

Although the survey primarily would be to direct post high school education, the results also could be a guide for high school vocational training, it was noted.

Lincoln actually is "hitching onto" a Research Coordinating Unit statewide survey of occupational needs, according to Schwartzkopf. However, the statewide study is sampling only 3% of employers.

Survey Instruments

Cost to the Lincoln district will be $1,500 for mailing expenses and data processing work. The research unit will provide survey instruments, computer time for prints outs and machine programming and consultant assistance.

In other action Tuesday the school board dissolved the joint operation of the Millard Lefler Library by the school and the city libraries.

At a joint meeting earlier, representatives of the library board, school board and Millard Lefler staff had agreed that the library should be maintained for junior high use only because school use and crowding out the adult sections.

The board asked that evacuation be completed by June 15.

Junior College

Don Nielson, representing the Community College Citizens Advisory Committee, presented the first of a two-part report investigating the establishment of a junior college in the Lincoln school district.

The 37-page document compiled the group's legislative subcommittee, "clarified the purpose and function of a community junior college in American education" and summarized the major state and federal legislation pertaining to community junior colleges in Nebraska.

The second part of the report will be results of a feasibility study which will determine prospective students for a community-junior college by following high school graduates and surveying career plans of high school students.

Other subjects to be covered in the report will be the status of employment in the Capital City, projection of enrollment in vairous types of vocational programs, progress of other community colleges, facilities and finances.

The citizens group will make its recommendations on the establishment of a community junior college here when it completes the second phase of the report sometime in January, Nielson told the board members.

In other school board action:

—Members agreed to underwrite two Lincoln Symphony Orchestra concerts for junior high students in the amount of $125 each.

—The policy on professional leave was amended to permit employes to receiev travel expense when paid by a source other than the schools.

—Board actuary Fenton Isaacson reported that the percentage of normal monthly retirement income payable on an early retirement date would be 91.45% for men and 92.55% for women who retire one year early; 83.88% for men, 85.86% for women two years early; 77.16¾ for men, 79.83% for women three years early.

Lincolnite Returns After Catholic Meet In Rome

Mrs. Fred Nevels Jr. of 2147 K St. returned to Lincoln early Tuesday after three weeks in Rome, Italy, where she participated in the Third World Congress of Laity of the Roman Catholic Church and the World Union of Catholic Women's Organization.

Mrs. Nevels was elected chairman of the North American delegation for the Women's World Union meeting, she disclosed here Tuesday.

She also participated in the liturgy service of the opening ceremony of the world union meeting, held at the Domus Mariae in Rome.

Workshops

Although workshops were held throughout Rome, the main meetings of the World Congress were held at the Piazzo inside the Vatican walls, she said. Some 2,500 delegates debated the most pressing problems of the present-day church during the week-long session.

Mrs. Nevels reported that she felt for the first time during such a meeting that delegates were talking "and listening" to people from other countries.

The most significant action to Mrs. Nevels during discussions on the theme, "God's People on Man's Journey," was approval of a resolution condemning racism.

'Constant Menace'

The statement by Catholic lay persons from all over the world condemned "all forms of racial discrimination," calling racism a "constant menace to peace."

"In a world trying to realize full human brotherhood," according to the resolution, nothing contradicts the ideal as much as "continued practice of racial discrimination."

Other resolutions approved by the group, Mrs. Nevels said, included statements on oppression, peace and the world community, the press, women in the church, the handicapped and a follow-up of the congress.

"There was a lot of talk in every meeting on "responsible parenthood and more teaching of morals by the church," she said.

The statement on birth control was contained in the resolution on development, proposed by a workshop group and passed in a plenary session.

The second section of that resolution, according to Mrs. Nevels, said:

"In view of the agonizing problem of demographic expansion they recall:

(1) the duties of states to have a policy that is realistic and respectful of man in particular of responsible freedom of the couple, but that such a policy should not be an excuse for a delay in development nor a substitute in effort to realize it and free from any geopolitical intervention of the great powers.

(2) The social duty of husband and wife toward responsible parenthood.

(3) The duty of Christians to participate in the efforts toward education.

(4) The very strong feeling among Christian lay people that there is need for a clear stand by the teaching authorities of the church which would focus on fundamental moral and spiritual values, scientific and technical means for achieving responsible parenthood to parents acting in accordance with their Christian faith and on the basis of medical and scientific consultation.

Skilled Tradesmen OK Ford Pact In First Votes

Detroit (AP)—Skilled tradesmen in the first three local unions to vote on the United Auto Workers' new three-year contract with Ford Motor Co. gave a 2-to-1 majorities for ratification.

Production workers in the first two locals to report gave overwhelming approval.

Skilled tradesmen for the first time hold veto power over any new contract and some of them made a last-minute, strenuous bid to win rejection of the new pact. Fisticuffs broke out in one Monday night demonstration against it.

First dribblets from voting in the UAW's 101 Ford bargaining units supported forecasts of the UAW leadership that the new agreement, carrying a guaranteed annual income, will win overwhelming ratification and send 160,000 strikers back to their jobs.

Voting continues through Wednesday. If ratification prevails, the union says workers will begin streaming back Thursday and Friday at Ford plants in 25 states across the country.

The strike against Ford enters its 49th day Wednesday and thus becomes seven weeks old. Strikers have been living on strike benefits ranging from $20 to $30 a week.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther warned in a telecast from Detroit to his some 80,000 Ford members in Michigan that "if you strike for three more months, it is our judgment, there will be no substantial improvement in this contract."

Responsibility Told

Washington (UPI) — The National Transportation Safety Board said the Alva Cape was "primarily responsible" for its collision with the SS Texaco Massachusetts off Bergen Point, N.J., June 16, which took 33 lives.

De Gaulle's Trip Annoys Spanish Press

© New York Times Service

Madrid — Spain officially and studiously ignored French President Charles de Gaulle's visit to Andorra, but her press clearly showed sharp annoyance.

The unofficial view in Madrid was that De Gaulle used his six-hour trip to the tiny principality in the Pyrenees Monday to increase the French influence there and, consequently, to limit that of Spain.

Since 1278 Andorra has lived under the co-suzerainty of France, but this is offset by the fact that the Andorran population is overwhelmingly Spanish.

Given these circumstances, the Spanish press reacted Tuesday with outspoken displeasure to the tone De Gaulle had given his visit and notably to his attempt to lead the Andorran crowd in the singing of the Marseillaise, the French national anthem.

Bishops Take Part In 'Minimass'

Vatican City (UPI) — Roman Catholic prelates filed out of the Sistine Chapel with mixed feelings Tuesday after taking part in what one bishop criticized as an oversimplified "minimass."

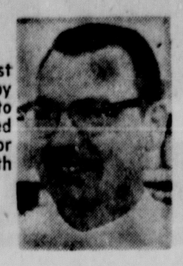

The nearly 200 cardinals and bishops nearing the conclusion of a month-long synod will be polled after this week for their opinions on the new much of the service's centuries-old traditions.

If approved by Pope Paul VI, it would be adopted for "standard mass" which sheds the nearly 600 million Catholics around the world, ending the present distinction between "high" and "low" masses.

Gens. LeMay, Gavin, Westmoreland Being Considered For Primary

By WILLIAM B. KETTER
United Press International

Nebraska officials reported Tuesday they are considering for the state's free-for-all presidential primary ballot three military figures with differing views on the Vietnam war.

Deputy Secretary of State Allen J. Beerman identified them as: — Retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, 60, who advocates stepped-up bombing of North Vietnam and a general acceleration of the U.S. war effort.

—Retired Army Maj. Gen. James M. Gavin, 56, who proposes the United States retrench and de-escalate its military commitment in Vietnam.

—And Army Gen. William C. Westmoreland, 53, commander of American forces in Vietnam and considered a supporter of the present war policy.

"We are watching these so-called military candidates very closely, including statements they make on the war and movements by other groups in their behalf," Beermann said.

"The Vietnam situation has increased public interest in potential candidates with a military background. Thus we would be less than honest if we did not recognize these military figures for possible inclusion on the Nebraska ballot."

Under Nebraska's all-star primary law, the secretary of state has the sole responsibility for placing "generally advocated or recognized candidates in national news media" on the presidential ballot.

Withdrawal can be accomplished only by a sworn statement of the individual involved that he does not intend to become a candidate for the presidential nomination.

Nebraska Selections

Beermann said the Nebraska selections will be announced by Feb. 14. Candidates named will then have until March 15 to file disavowal affidavits. The primary is May 14.

If Gavin, LeMay and Westmoreland were included on the ballot, the Nebraska Primary likely would gain wider national attention because of their Vietnam war views.

Beermann said so far the secretary of state's office has gathered more material promoting Gavin and LeMay for president than Westmoreland.

'Have To Consider'

"We have to consider, however, that Gen. Westmoreland is not in the same position as Gens. Gavin and LeMay. They are retired from military while he is still in charge of the Vietnam fighting," Beermann said.

The deputy secretary of state also said consideration will be given to putting Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's name on the Democratic side of the primary ballot along with President Johnson even though Kennedy has said he will take steps to keep his name off.

"I know he has said he does not want to be a presidential candidate. But if the polls and other media show that he's generally advocated, don't we have the obligation to put him on?" Beermann asked.

"We must follow the sentiment of the people on this matter. If it appears there is considerable support for a man over the country, we have the responsibility, under the primary law, to put his name before the Nebraska electorate.

"Now if that man doesn't want his name on the ballot, he can file an affidavit saying so. That is a different matter."

Hall Of Fame Can't Uncover 'Suitable' Bust Of Buffalo Bill

The Nebraska Hall of Fame Commission reported Tuesday it is still hunting for a suitable bust of Buffalo Bill Cody.

Commission member Marvin Kivett, director of the state historical society, said the commission's nationwide survey of art institutions "has turned up a number of busts but none of the quality that we want."

He said that many people sculptured Buffalo Bill but "in order to maintain the high artistic standards of the hall, we have to have a bust of outstanding qualities."

Kivett indicated such a sculpture would have had to be made by a noted artist, preferably one who had used Cody as a model rather than modeled from a photograph.

The commission honored the buffalo hunter and showman by selecting Buffalo Bill as its centennial entry for the hall.

Kivett said Paul Granlund of St. Paul, Minn., the sculptor of the Father Flanagan bust, expects to have it ready for the hall by December.

The founder of Boys Town was honored last year as the commission's fourth entry into the hall.

The commission asked Granlund to scale down his original plaster model to approximately life size so the completed bust would conform with those already in the hall.

New Westinghouse Weigh-to-Save lid takes the guesswork out of getting a good wash.

Sure, Westinghouse Heavy Duty washers are built to handle whopping big washloads day in and day out. But you usually have to guess how large each washload is.

Now the exclusive, new Westinghouse Weigh-to-Save lid tells you the size of your wash so you can select the right amount of water and detergent to do the job. Save guesswork. Save money. You use no more hot water or detergent than you need.

Heavy Duty, 16-pound capacity...

It takes a genuine Heavy Duty washer with an extra large agitator driven by an extra-large transmission to stand up to your kind of washday. Day after day after day.

The new Westinghouse can wash up to 16 pounds of clothes really clean. With double washing action the agitator rotates one way, the tub the other for through-and-through washing.

Permanent Press care, too!

Big reasons why you're washing more these days are the new fabrics: Permanent Press shirts and sheets, washable woolens, even no-stain table cloths. Westinghouse has special Permanent Press cycles for proper care of all these modern fabrics.

It all adds up to everything you need in an automatic washer. Ask for a demonstration today.

You can be sure if it's Westinghouse

CANADIAN WHISKY — A BLEND · 80 PROOF · IMPORTED BY NATIONAL DISTILLERS PRODUCTS CO., NEW YORK

Elegant tradition:
The smoothest whisky ever to come out of Canada!

Tonight serve Windsor Canadian: the remarkable, sippin'-smooth Canadian that's already changing thousands of Americans' ideas on the whisky to serve.

Now compare Windsor! Pour two drinks —highballs or over ice—one with your usual, one with Windsor Canadian. Notice the superior smoothness and the flavor of Windsor.

That's because no other custom-distilled whisky shares these three extraordinary features:

1. Only Windsor Canadian is made from choicest northern prairie grains, bursting with fresh flavor.

2. Only Windsor Canadian is born of icy mountain glacial water drawn pure and clear from underground streams.

3. Only Windsor Canadian is aged in the incredibly dry air of Canada's Rockies. Where, nearly a mile high, it gentles to sippin'-smooth perfection.

Yet it costs no more than leading domestic whiskies, because we import Windsor Canadian, then bottle it here. Thus saving on duties and other charges. Compare the price and the smoothness of Windsor. Once you do, you'll never settle for less or pay more. That's tradition for you!

Bolsheviks May Drift Toward 'Market Socialism'

whether capitalism is coming back to Russia (virtually everyone agrees that it is not), but rather whether there are contained in the new economic reforms the seeds of a hybrid known as "market socialism."

In market socialism, which is quite far developed in Yugoslavia and seems to be emerging in several eastern European countries, private ownership of industry is outlawed, just as it is under communism.

But it is the marketplace, rather than the government bureaucracy, that is largely responsible for allocating available resources.

No Neat Ideology

The fact is, of course, that it is impossible to put the Soviet economy into a neat ideological pigeonhole.

The Soviet Union has always had little islands of free enterprise in its economy. For example, on Tsvetnoi boulevard in Moscow, next door to the circus, there is a collective farm market, one of about 8,000 in the country.

The peasants are free to bring their produce into the market and sell it for what they can get.

The collective-farm market is an anomaly in the Soviet Union, where it is an economic "crime" for an individual to buy goods and resell them at a profit, or for a shoemaker to "exploit" someone by hiring him as an assistant.

But it is perfectly all right to hire a domestic servant. In the Soviet lexicon, since a domestic does not "produce" anything, there is no "exploitation of man by man" in hiring a cleaning woman, no matter how long she works or how little she is paid.

Anomalies The Rule

It does not take a visitor to Moscow long to discover that anomalies such as the collective farm and cleaning woman are the rule rather than the exception.

Consumer appetites for a better standard of living have been whetted by steady increases in wages and a gradual improvement in the availability of goods and services.

Most Soviet citizens particularly those living in the larger areas, would probably agree that there is enough food to eat and clothes to buy.

But Moscow's man in the street wants improved living conditions. Clearly, rising wages provide little additional incentive if consumers cannot buy anything with their money, so the government has been forced to respond to the new demands.

No Diversion

The Kremlin has made it plain that increased attention to consumer needs will not be allowed to divert significant resources from heavy industry or the military establishment.

Thus, the only way that a dent is going to be made in meeting the needs of the rapidly expanding Russian middle class is by an increase in the country's economic growth rate.

In a centrally-directed economy like the Soviet Union's, party functionaries and government bureaucrats have to allocate the nation's resources among a staggering number of possible end uses.

Every year incredibly detailed instructions go out from Moscow telling factory managers exactly how to run their businesses, from whom to purchase supplies, and to whom to sell their products.

War Economy

This highly centralized system of management, which the Russians are only now trying to loosen just a bit, is essentially the model evolved by Stalin after he consolidated his power in 1928 and 1929. It is basically a model for a war economy in the sense that all the nation's resources are focused on a single goal, the rapid industrialization of a backward, peasant economy.

Stalin was obsessed by fear of foreign invasion and was determined to bend the entire effort of the Soviet nation to construction of an industrial base that would insure national survival.

The problem the Soviet Union confronts today is how to transform this "war economy" to a long-range normal peacetime system. It is already abundantly plain that it is not going to be an easy task.

Missouri Fund Cut Gets OK

. . . By Conferees

Washington (AP) — Senate and House conferees agreed on a public works appropriation bill which includes a $600,000 cut in construction funds for the Missouri River from Sioux City to the mouth of the river.

The House had provided $4 million for this project and the Senate $5.6 million. The compromise in effect splits the difference.

Power Line Funds

The compromise measure, which now is cleared for final action in the Senate and House, also includes $14,041,000 for the Missouri Basin transmission division including $10,041,000 for the power line from Fort Thompson, S.D., to Grand Island.

The conferees also left intact the $125,000 inserted by the Senate for planning of the Midstate Reclamation District in Hall, Buffalo and Merrick Counties in Nebraska.

Also included in the measure was $2.9 million for the Missouri River levee system in Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska.

Other Nebraska projects in the measure were:

Army Engineer Projects

Construction: Gering Valley $591,000; Little Papillion Creek $786,000; Norfolk $1.2 million; Salt Creek and tributaries $993,000.

Planning: Little Nemaha River $95,000.

Surveys: Elkhorn River $50,000; Nemaha-Little Nemaha Rivers $20,000; Niobrara River, Nebraska and Wyoming $30,000; Salt Creek and Tributaries $60,000; White River, Nebraska and South Dakota $25,000.

Reclamation Projects

Construction: North Platte $350,000.

Investigations: Nebraska Basins $150,000; Sheep Creek $2,000; Sunbeam $3,000.

Catholic Press Meeting Opens

Grand Rapids, Mich. (UPI) —More than 100 representatives of Catholic newspapers and magazines attended the opening session of the Midwest region of the Catholic Press Association Tuesday.

The annual convention was to run until Friday.

States represented at the conference were Nebraska, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, West Virginia, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, South Dakota and Michigan.

Tuesday Robert G. Peters, editor-manager of the Peoria (Ill.) Register, spoke on "The Catholic Communicator Facing the Reality of Poverty."

Workshops were also scheduled, featuring the managing editors and publishers of Catholic newspapers throughout the Midwest.

Schools Set Segregation End Dates

Washington (AP)—Key Southern school districts have voluntarily set for themselves deadlines to meet federal desegregation requirements, government officials disclosed Tuesday.

Involved are 37 school districts across the 17 Southern and border states. All have agreed to eliminate dual Negro-white school systems by set dates over the next three years.

Another 44 of the total 4,600 school districts in the South have presented to federal officials new plans aimed at producing acceptable desegregation in public schools over a slightly longer period.

Government officials define acceptable desegregation as evidence of substantial progress toward school integration.

While the totals are only a small percentage, U.S. authorities charged with seeing that federal funds do not go to schools which discriminate against students view the voluntary deadlines as a major advance.

"We still have a long way to go," one federal official commented. "The blast majority of Negro children in the South still are not getting an adequate education. We also need to deal with the same situation in some Northern centers."

"But you can only take one step at a time and the voluntary establishment of deadlines lets us begin to see the light at the end of the tunnel."

Most Set Own Dates

Most Southern school districts which have set their own deadlines for compliance with civil rights rulings on school desegregation have requested anonymity while they go about the job.

A breakdown by states, howeer, reveals this picture:

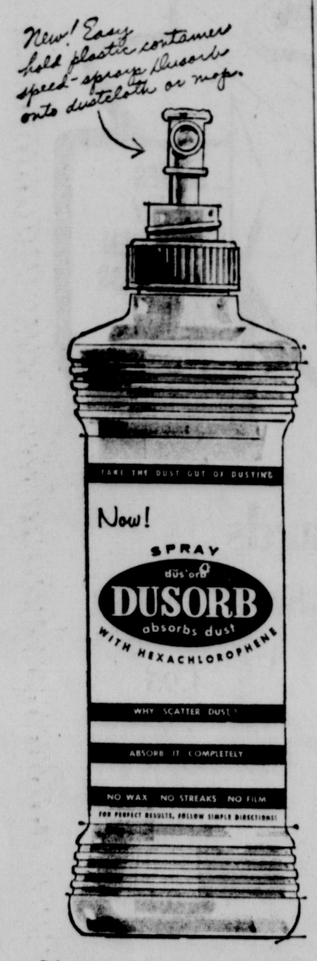

—12 Southern school districts have agreed to eliminate all school segregation by the end of 1968. Of these, two are in Georgia and 10 in Texas

—14 have agreed to eliminate desegregation completely by the end of 1969. Of these, two are in Arknasas, six in Texas, three in Florida, two in Georgia and one in Tennessee.

—11 have agreed to integrate schools by the end of 1970. Of these, 10 are in Texas and one in Georgia.

All in all, 221 Southern school districts have been asked by the government to come up with more definite progress on school desegregation or face the termination of federal financial support.

Since January, 1965, federal aid to schools has been suspended in 64 Southern districts.

There's News All Around The Town

Miss Lyne Annette O'Keefe

Town and campus will share interest this morning in the announcement made by Dr. and Mrs. Robert O'Keefe of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lyne Annette, to Dr. Robert William Jack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jack of Denver.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Jan. 27.

Miss O'Keefe is a junior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Dr. Jack, now serving as a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy, and stationed at the Oakland Naval Hospital, Oakland, Calif., is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Dentistry.

Council Election

The fall meeting of the Lancaster County Home Extension Council was held Monday afternoon following a noon luncheon at Colonial Inn.

Mrs. G. F. Severson, council chairman, presided at the meeting which included election of officers and reports on the state meeting by the council delegates, Mrs. Severson and Mrs. Walter L. Broer, Lincoln; Mrs. Con Urbach, Denton; and Mrs. Norman May, Hickman.

Named council chairman for the coming year was Mrs. Vincent Arthaud of Lincoln, and other new officers will be Mrs. Arthur Wiechert, Rt. 1, vice chairman; Mrs. Mancel E. McGill, Waverly, secretary; Mrs. Norman May, Hickman, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Behring, Malcolm, historian; and Mrs. Everett Hodtwalker, Walton, health leader.

Members of the East Lincoln Homemakers Club made plans to entertain their husbands at a December dinner at the club's monthly meeting last Thursday.

Mrs. Harry Chaffin, assisted by Mrs. Robert E. Lee, was hostess to the group.

It's a little early to talk about Christmas, and we have a few weeks to go before Thanksgiving so that also is out as a conversation piece.

But Homecoming arrives two weeks from Saturday. We wondered if the usual chartered plane load would be coming from California for the game weekend. It won't. It seems that mid-November flying weather isn't too popular with Californians —but next year will be a different story.

We did hear, however, that many transplanted Nebraskans in California will be arriving for the game by commercial air lines. Among the passengers will be Felbert Maasden and his son, Chris Maasden, of Los Angeles. Mr. Maasden, once a member of the football team at Nebraska, where he is a member of Sigma Nu, has been the power behind the chartered plane trip during past years. And by the way, young Chris Maasden will be a freshman at Nebraska next year.

We also learned that a large delegation of Nebraska fans will come from Milwaukee on Nov. 11, as well as from Colorado, and here and there throughout the nation.

* * *

Not waiting until Homecoming for a visit in Lincoln are Mrs. Richard Schmoker, her daughter Kim, and small son, William Charles, who will arrive on Thursday. The threesome from Minneapolis will be the house guests of Mrs. Schmoker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart.

* * *

Now our calendar reminds us that next Saturday is in the news again. This time it is the Holiday Club dinner dance which is to be held at the Lincoln Country Clnb.

The party planners include Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Minier, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Aitken, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wescott.

Bridal Parties, Plans

Entertaining for an autumn bride-to-be on Wednesday evening will be Mrs. Robert Van Winkle and Mrs. David Novak who will be hostesses to family members and friends in courtesy to Miss Elizabeth Jane Wermers.

Miss Wermers, who will become the bride of Dwayne Novak on Saturday, Nov. 11, will be presented a miscellaneous shower during the party, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Novak.

Revealing plans for a late autumn wedding is Miss Diann Rector, who has chosen Tuesday, Nov. 21, for her marriage to Ronald Gochenour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Gochenour of Weeping Water.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan L. Rector of Weeping Water, the bride-elect has named Miss Gail Maddow of Carteret, N.J., as her maid of honor for the wedding, which will take place at a 7:30 o'clock evening ceremony, at the Congregational United Church of Christ in Weeping Water.

The bridesmaids will be Miss Connie Bender of Lincoln, and Miss Patti Patterson, Weeping Water; and Miss Kim Rector will attend her sister as junior bridesmaid.

Dennis Gochenour will serve his brother as best man, and seating the guests will be Thomas Domingo and the bride-elect's brother, Gayle Rector, Weeping Water; and Gary Peterson, Kimball.

Miss Rector is a former coed at Doane College, Crete, and her fiance attends the University of Nebraska.

Naming the members of her bridal party this morning is Miss Donna Mae Stotz, whose marriage to Edwin Lee Bowes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowes, will take place Sunday, Nov. 5.

Miss Roberta Stotz will attend her sister as maid of honor for the ceremony, which will be solemnized at the College View Seventh-Day Adventist Church, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Sheila Gutknect. Miss Debbie Stotz will be her sister's flower girl, and carrying the Bible will be Douglas Stotz, brother of the bride-elect.

Lighting the candles for the 7 o'clock service will be Miss Roxanne Garner and Greg Garner of Kansas City, Mo.

Roy McCain will serve as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Ray Royal, Bruce Brenniser, Harry Royal, Bob Richardson and Ron Stutz, brother of the bride-to-be.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Stotz, Miss Stotz was honored Sunday afternoon, Oct. 8, when Mrs. Lorraine Richardson entertained a group of guests at her home. During the party, a personal shower was presented to the bride-elect.

Miss Teresa Kay Erickson

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Erickson of Holdrege make announcement of the engagement of an approaching marriage of their daughter, Teresa Kay, of Lincoln, to Michael E. Renquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Renquist, also of Holdrege.

A February wedding is planned.

Miss Renquist attended the Lincoln School of Commerce.

ABBY: see a doctor

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last week a neighbor came to our door with a disturbing story. It seems our son, age 10, had undressed her son, age 6, and whatever else took place, she was supposed to have seen.

We have never had any trouble like this before. Our son's exact words were, "I don't know what I did wrong."

This neighbor didn't know that there was a third boy there, who was older. When I questioned him, he assured me that nothing serious took place.

We appreciated this neighbor telling us, so that if we do have a problem we can correct it in time, but what we didn't appreciate was her telling the whole neighborhood.

The next day, none of our son's friends would play with him.

Three days later, the POLICE called to question us in reference to this incident. (Such tales can really get out of proportion, can't they?)

What should we do if they continue to press the issue?

WORRIED DAD

DEAR DAD: If by "pressing the issue," you mean they continue to persecute your child by refusing to allow their children to play with him, moving from the neighborhood would not be too drastic, if it's at all possible. Tales of this nature live a lot longer than they should.

If you are convinced that what took place was nothing "serious," and only a normal incident of exploring, due to natural boyish curiosity, forget it. But better schedule a chat between your boy and a competent child psychologist to be sure the child hasn't an unhealthy (or abnormal) preoccupation with sex.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SALE EXTENDED

FURS UNCLAIMED FROM STORAGE BEING SOLD

Unheard of Prices on New and Used Furs

Here is the story of these furs: Furriers from time to time get "stuck" with furs unclaimed from storage. Pachman Furs has a large group of furs which will go at fantastic prices in the Lincoln area. Also many one-of-a-kind furs from regular stock will go at very low prices. Imagine buying a nearly new fur stole for only $15.00 and up and fur collars from $5.00 to $10.00 & up. Many of these furs are expensive furs and are being sold at ridiculous prices. These furs really look NEW but must be labeled "second-hand used." If you want to buy a "good" $15.00 and up bargain in a fur you'd better come early. Fur Coats, Jackets, Scarfs and Stoles will go at low, low prices. A deposit will hold your layaway. Furs on sale for limited time, open from 9 to 5:30. Mack Pachman Furrier, 1026 & 1028 "O" Street. Lincoln, Nebr. Layaways invited. Everything labeeld to show country of origin.

IN suburbia

Just think. In less than a month Thanksgiving will descend upon the suburban population and, although we hate to mention it, in exactly two months Santa will be climbing out of his final chimney top. Frightening, isn't it?

There are endless lists of things to do before the holidays arrive, and not much time to do them in — gifts, turkeys, cranberry sauce, tinsel, cards and correspondence, wild duck — guests, guests, guests, and the suburban pace is stepping up already—

In Lincoln Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Tubbs are in the midst of a hubbub. The lifetime Lincoln family will be moving this weekend to Abilene, Tex., and the sadness of leaving old friends and the excitement of meeting new ones, make life a little hectic for Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs and daughters, Jerri Jane, Karen Kay and Marilee.

In farewell courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs, Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Irmer entertained at an after-the-game party Saturday afternoon and evening. Included in the guest list were the family's boating and water-skiing friends, Mr. and Mrs. Les Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Anderson and John Weers.

Friday evening Jerri and Karen were feted at a slumber party at the home of Debbie Hester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Hester. The guests were all feminine schoolmates of the two departing youngsters.

Also entertaining for Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs recently have been Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brydl and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Scdoris, who were hosts and hostesses at a dinner, and Mrs. Evelyn DeLair who, with feminine friends of Mrs. Tubbs, honored her at a evening party.

Rosemont residents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Spreier, entertained recently at a neighborhood evening coffee. The conversation naturally turned to Saturday's football game for the eight guests, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hoegmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Damke, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hutchins

Busy new residents to mention are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lobeda who are making their home at a Rosemont address—7041 Colby. Former residents of Omaha and native Nebraskans — from Alma and Edgar, respectively, Mr. and Mrs. Lobeda have a very sports-minded family. Especially interested in football are youngsters, Robin, 11; Mark, 11; Brad, 9; and Lori, 6. Well, Brad really won't be nine-years-old until December.

Mr. Lobeda, a federal employee, has been transfered to the Lincoln Post Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Erickson have had an adorable houseguest visiting them — their grandson; Timmy, who is four-years-old. Last week Timmy, a perfect gentleman, so we hear, received the grand tour of Lincoln from his grandparents, a tour that included watching planes at the airports, trains at the depot and feeding the ducks at Pioneers Park. On Sunday Timmy returned to his home in Omaha with his mother, Mrs. Glenice Erickson.

Returning to Lincoln this morning and to their former neighborhood are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Johnson who are settling down at 3268 D St. The Johnsons have been traveling quite a bit in recent years — Auburn was their last home. And during those years a young son was added to the family total — Brian who is a wee four-week old.

As to hobbies, the Johnsons keep active with bowling and roller skating.

Marriage Announced

Announcement is being made this morning of the marriage of Miss Carolee Hansen, daughter of Mrs. John C. Hansen and the late Mr. Hansen, to Gene Koehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Koehler of Plankinton, S.D.

The ceremony was solemnized on Saturday morning, Oct. 14, in Lincoln.

Mr. Koehler and his bride will reside in Lincoln, where he is a student at the University of Nebraska.

Stop Winter Wrinkles

Wrinkles are river-beds of dry skin cells caused by the plasma colloids (moisture carriers of the skin) having dried out. A tendency to dryness is often heightened in winter, but if you smooth a tropical oil over your face and neck each day you will soon find that traces of wrinkle-dryness are eased away and that your complexion has gained line-free loveliness. Ask your druggist for oil of Olay and before making-up, smooth it over the face, neck and hands to give the skin a beautiful, youthful bloom.

Should your baby mix bananas with his mixed cereal?

If he's eating mixed cereal anyway, why not surprise him some morning.

Give him Gerber® Mixed Cereal with Banana.

Made with real bananas. So naturally it's got scrumptious real-banana flavor.

A baby-pleaser, for sure.

This good cereal gives your baby protein, iron and B-vitamins, too. And the fresh-fruit taste gives him plenty of reason to "eat up."

We planned it that way.

Opening lead — ten of hearts.

It would be wonderful to be able to see the defenders' hands every time you became declarer. Presumably, you would seldom err in the play and would enjoy getting every possible trick out of each hand.

But, alas, bridge is not played that way and you have to do the best you can without seeing the adverse hands. This doesn't mean that you should necessarily suffer because of your restricted vision; on the contrary, your results on most hands should exactly parallel what you would accomplish if you actually saw all the cards.

For example, take this case where West leads a heart which East wins with the ace. East returns a heart, which you take with the king, and you can now count eleven sure winners, come what may.

There are only two suits where you can score the all-important twelfth trick. One is clubs, where cashing the A-K might drop the queen and make dummy's jack a trick. The other is diamonds, where you may catch the queen by either leading the A-K or taking a finesse in the hope that East has the queen.

Note that in the actual hand, both methods fail. But note, also, that correct play makes the slam. What you should do is try to get a reading of the distribution so that you will know how to deal with the diamonds.

Accordingly, you cash the third round of hearts, the A-K of clubs, the ace of diamonds, and five spade tricks. This reduces you to the K-J of diamonds alone.

As you cash these tricks, you learn that West started with one spade, two hearts, seven clubs, and hence three diamonds. When you cash the last spade, West must discard from the Q-7 of diamonds and queen of clubs. Since he cannot afford a club discard, he parts with a diamond. You thereupon cash the king of diamonds, knowing beyond the shadow of a doubt that the queen will fall.

Hog Island Hippies 'United In Dream'

Hog Island, Fla. (AP)— Way down upon the Suwannee River live the hippies of Hog Island —"united in a dream" — far from the old folks at home.

The hippies, so called by residents at the nearby fishing village of Suwannee, are four bearded young men and two "chicks" who have been camping on the 40-acre island for about six weeks.

And while Stephen Foster's immortal song refers to a "sad and dreary" world, the kids on Hog Island say they're having the time of their lives.

'Living Together'

"We're a goup of people living together closer than brothers and sisters," Stanley T. Rheinheimer told two sheriffs who visited the remote island at the mouth of the Suwannee on Florida's west coast Tuesday.

Rheinheimer, a 21-year-old Asheville, N.C., native who said he attended Arizona State University for two years, told the sheriffs the six sleep in separate sleeping bags and shun such traditional hippy fare as marijuana and LSD.

"We don't cause any trouble. We live innocently and we don't bother anybody," he said.

"Yes," agreed 18-year-old Lynn "Cricket" Jacobs. "I don't see what the fuss is about; we're not doing anything wrong."

Cricket said she joined the group less than a month ago after she quit her job at Gainesville, Fla.

Ex-Oklahoma Stater

With Cricket and Rhein heimer on the island are Paul Wayne Morgan, 21, of Duncan, Okla., a former student at Oklahoma State; James J. Lynard, 20, a native of North Dakota who said he attended one year of college at the University of Florida; David G. Breuning, 25, of Melbourne, Fla., a former junior college student, and Margaret Ann Zimmer, 21, a beautiful blue-eyed High Point, Miss., native who said she formerly worked as a hair dresser in California.

All said they came from broken homes.

Rheinheimer, a tall youth who wears an Indian headband, said eight others decided to "cut out" after arriving at the island.

Dream Of Boat

Rheinheimer said the remaining members stay because they "share a common dream" of building an 80-foot fishing boat.

Meanwhile, he said, they fish and hunt oysters and buy a few necessities on a budget of less than $7 a week — money saved from picking cucumbers.

"We mostly eat rice, beans, bread and whatever crabs and fish and oysters we can catch," he said. "We're too poor for pot and LSD and besides, we don't belive in it."

GM Report Says Sales, Profits Up

New York (AP)—General Motors Corp. reported Tuesday increased sales and earnings for the third quarter.

The big automaker said dollar sales for the three months ended Sept. 30 were $3.8 billion, compared with $3.3 billion in the 1966 third quarter.

Net income for the period was $149 million, or 51 cents a share, compared with $100 million, or 34 cents a share, a year earlier.

Middle West Swept By Twisters, Winds

By United Press International

Tornadoes swept across the Middle West Tuesday, unroofing homes and toppling house trailers in the St. Louis metropolitan area. Winter-like snows fell on the Colorado Rockies.

The twisters and damaging winds boiled out of an exceptionally strong cold front that rode across the Midwest, pulling much colder weather in its wake.

The heaviest damage was reported in the Maryland Heights-Bridgeton suburban area west of St. Louis, Mo. Two persons were injured seriously, several suffered minor injuries and about 30 homes were unroofed or otherwise damaged extensively.

Elderly Woman Dies

An elderly woman, who had been ill, died of an apparent heart attack during a windstorm at West Frankfort, Ill.

A tornado damaged homes, blew down trees and snapped utility lines in a 10-block-wide section of Johnson City, Ill.

Fire Chief Doyle Ray said the twister "sounded just like a railroad train" and the fire truck on which he was riding through the storm was "bouncing up and down."

A hangar was slashed in half and blown 200 feet at the Highland, Ill., airport. Seven trailer homes were overturned and numerous houses suffered roof damage at Wood River, Ill.

Service Interrupted

Union Electric Co. reported the tornadoes and high winds caused power failures that interrupted service to more than 22,000 customers. It said lines and poles were downed throughout St. Louis; East St. Louis, Ill.; and St. Louis and St. Charles Counties in Missouri.

High winds blew down trees and television antennas in the Richview, Ill., area and overturned farm buildings near Philadelphia, Ill. A carport was blown away in Arnold, Mo.; and trees were uprooted in St. Clair, Mo.

Tiemann Expenditures Defended By Assistant

The Tiemann administration can be called a big spender only by those opposed to education and economic development of the state, Clayton Yeutter told the Lincoln Rotary Club Tuesday.

Yeutter, executive assistant to Gov. Norbert Tiemann, said the Tiemann budget increases "are comparable to the previous administration" except for the University of Nebraska, mental patient care and economic development.

"There was no engineering research at the university until this budget," he said. "You can't attract industries to the state unless you are prepared to service them."

'Can't Be Criticized'

Yeutter said the increased expenditures for mental patient care and the Department of Economic Development can't be criticized "unless you're philosophically opposed to these programs."

The assistant said Tiemann "applied more force (to the Legislature) than any previous governor," and most of his programs are now law.

Yeutter credited the governor's office with successfully pushing through the University of Nebraska-Omaha University merger bill, daylight saving time, state aid to education and a statewide communications system among others.

More Flexibility

He said the sales-income tax and the state aid to education "gives the state more flexibility in taxation than ever before."

He predicted the broadened tax base will lower the property tax burden—not this biennium but in the next and future bienniums.

"If the property tax burden is too high—and I think it is—state aid to education can be used to give more relief," he said. "More revenue can be rebated to local government."

'Town Hall' Forums

Yeutter said the "town hall forums" of the governor will continue through 1968.

"This way we can keep feeling the pulse of the public and exchange ideas," he said.

Yeutter also noted that strong critics of the Tiemann administration are losing much of their thunder by failing to "stand up and be counted at the public forums."

Higher Salaries

Regarding the higher salaries paid the top administrators under Tiemann, Yeutter said "many are working at a financial sacrifice."

"But as the governor said, 'You pay a bum salary and you get a bum,'" he added.

Yeutter said Administrative Services Director Robert Rogers will "make $20,000 more in four years than his predecessor," but he has "already effected a new payroll system that is saving $7,500 a month."

He said the governor's office, "using the Tiemann team of attorneys and law school professors," is already at work on a 1969 legislative program.

This will include recodification of the state's insurance and criminal laws, and new procedural law for the committment of the mentally ill, he said.

Arab Saboteurs Wound 2, Says Army Of Israel

Tel Aviv, Israel (AP) — Two Israeli soldiers were wounded in a gun fight with Arab saboteurs striking in the Beisan Valley in Northern Israel, the army said Tuesday.

The Israelis ambushed eight infiltrators at midnight Monday near Tirath Zvi, south of the Sea of Galilee, a spokesman said. The Arabs fired back, seriously wounding two Israelis before fleeing across the River Jordan.

Soviets Say Spy Of CIA Defects

Moscow (AP) — A Soviet newspaper published Tuesday what it said was an article by a former agent of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency named John Smith, who purportedly spied for the Americans in the armed forces and Defense Ministry of India.

The newspaper Literary Gazette said Smith was from Quincy, Mass., now is a Soviet citizen living and working in Moscow. The U.S. Embassy here said it never heard of him.

In Washington, the State Department confirmed that a John Discoe Smith worked for it in the 1950s, but disclaimed any knowledge that he has defected to the Soviet Union.

Said Communications Clerk

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Smith, now 41, was a communications clerk with the department from Oct. 29, 1950, to Dec. 29, 1959, when he resigned for what he said were personal reasons.

McCloskey said there is no record that Smith "worked for anyone other than the Department of State as a communications clerk," and "there is no reason to think that he was ever employed by the CIA."

The career of John Smith, described by Tass, closely resembles that of a John D. Smith whose mother, Mrs. Thomas Kantola of Braintree, Mass., said: "That's not my boy. He works for the government, but I can't say more."

Tass said Smith revealed names of CIA operatives in India and told of "bugging" the code room in the embassy of an underdeveloped nation friendly to the Soviet Union.

'CIA In Army'

"Smith writes that the CIA had its agents among high-placed officers of the staff of the Indian army and in the Indian defense ministry," Tass reported. "John Smith declared that his wife told him about many secret agents of the CIA among high-ranking Indain military officers."

Tass said John Smith spent his first 17 years in Qunicy, was educated at Thayer Academy in Braintree and worked at "Four Rivers Shipyard" before joining the Navy in World War II and being assigned to work on codes.

Relatives of John D. Smith said he attended Quincy schools before dropping out to work at the Fore River Shipyard in Quincy. They said He was in the Navy three years and later attended George Washington University, Washington, D.C., for two years before joining the State Department.

'Went Away'

Mrs. Leonard Kantola, wife of John D. Smith's half-brother, said the family gave a party for Smith in 1951 because he was "going away in the foreign service." Leonard Kantola said he has not heard from Smith in years.

But Smith's mother said she gets "letters from him all the time." She said she had received one, mailed in Rome, "within a week." She said the letter told that Smith was "traveling in Europe," but she did not know whether it was on a pleasure trip or in connection with his work.

She said her son is married and that his wife and family are in the United States.

In Washington press officer McCloskey said Smith was assigend to the U.S. Embassy at Pretoria, South Africa, in January, 1951, to New Delhi in May, 1954 and to Vienna in 1959.

Returned, Resigned

Smith returned to the United States Dec. 27, 1959, and resigned two days later, McCloskey said. Smith had started off with a $2,850 yearly salary as a communications clerk—a technical rather than a diplomatic or policy job—and was earning $5,585 when he quit.

On his passport application, Smith was said to have listed England, Sweden, Switzerland and Australia as the places he intended to visit.

The last record concerning Smith was an April 13, 1960, passport issuance to him in Miami and "we have nothing on his present whereabouts," the State Department spokesman said.

The passport expired in 1963 and there is no record of Smith's having sought to renew it, McCloskey said.

"We have no information here that this man, nor a John Smith, American citizen, is in the Soviet Union, is a Soviet citizen or is a defector from the United States," McCloskey said.

Rapid Expansion In Food For Freedom Okayed

Washington — A rapid expansion of the Food for Freedom program in underdeveloped countries has been authorized by the administration under pressure of sagging farm prices and sharp cuts in foreign aid funds.

Negotiations are actively under way with eight countries looking to concessional sales of wheat, feed grains and edible oil for local currency, as well as repayable dollar credit. In addition, restrictions on donated food to combat malnutrition, particularly among children, have been quietly removed.

The Agency for International Development has cabled its missions in less developed countries that supplies are now ample for donation programs linked to self-help efforts in agricultural development. Two conditions for eligibility are that the donated food should be used to increase local farm production and should not displace commercial sales.

The AID message on donation food had the effect of revoking a notice to missions in August, 1966, that 25% less wheat and feed grains would be available as food aid—whether on a concessional sales basis or for donations programs — and that their requests should be tailored accordingly.

Food aid shipments dwindled to a trickle in the last half of 1966.

Requests for donation food, which many underdeveloped countries use instead of money to pay workers on agricultural projects, all but stopped. To reverse this psychology of scarcity, the agency cable said in part:

"There is ample food available to meet program requirements which were curtailed last fiscal year because of limited supplies of some commodities."

Agriculture officials are frankly hopeful that revival of food aid shipments will have a buoyant effect on farm prices.

Farmes generally are blaming the administration for the persistent low level of prices. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has publicly "shared" their frustration, explaining that while there is no wheat surplus in the United States today, bumper crops around the world have been "prompting irregular and discouraging short-term market action."

High Court Not Likely To Hear Tax Test In '67

The lawsuit challenging the 1967 income tax law likely will not be argued before the State Supreme Court this year unless both sides ask for priority consideration of the case, a court official said Tuesday.

Court Clerk George Turner said the high tribunal's docket is filled with other cases through December and it would take a special stipulation to advance the income tax case ahead of these.

He said there has been no indication from parties to the tax suit whether they plan to file such a motion, although both sides have stated publicly they want a final court decision before the tax goes into effect on Jan. 1.

Turner commented after it was announced forces opposing the tax submitted a 125-page legal brief last weekend outlining their objections to the levy and alleging 17 errors by District Judge Herbert A. Ronin in holding the act valid.

The state now has 30 days to file an answer brief, after which the plaintiffs have another 10 days to submit further written arguments in reply.

Judge Ronin ruled last month that the tax law is completely valid, except for one minor section dealing with penalties.

Earlier this month the State Equalization Board fixed the initial tax rates at 10% on individuals and 2% on corporations.

The tax law contains payroll deduction provisions so thousands of wage-earners will feel the impact of the levy immediately in the form of smaller take-home pay.

Forces challenging the validity of the tax law include Philip C. Anderson and Raymond Weilage Jr., both of Crete; Jack L. Etherington and Charles E. Bray, both of Council Bluffs, Iowa; Robert M. Niquette of Lititz, Pa.; the Feed Service Corp. of Nebraska, and Morea Liquifeed Corp. of Illinois.

Their attorney, Ray C. Simmons of Fremont, authored the written brief. He restated these basic allegations:

—The law violates the state and federal constitutions by tying the rate-setting and collection provisions to future federal tax laws.

—The statute makes a "tax czar" of the state tax commissioner empowering him to establish rules for operation and enforcement of the act.

—The law as it applies to banks, savings and loan associations and other financial institutions is, in effect, a property tax which can no longer be assessed at the state level.

—And the $7 food tax credit is unfair because it is not available to nonresidents who work in Nebraska and must pay the state income tax.

State Board Paroles Nine Men's Reformatory Inmates

The State Board of Pardons and Paroles Tuesday granted paroles to nine Men's Reformatory inmates including an Omahan serving a four-year sentence for manslaughter.

He is Douglas Worley, 25, who pleaded guilty 1½ years ago to an amended charge stemming from the April 23, 1963, shooting death of Ralph Gomez, 33, of Omaha.

Originally Worley had been convicted by a Douglas County District Court jury of manslaughter and sentenced to five years in prison. But he later won a reconsideration of the case on appeal to the Nebraska Supreme Court.

The second time around in the district court, the manslaughter complaint was modified and Worley entered a guilty plea. He was then given four years in prison.

Other reformatory inmates granted paroles by the board included:

—Richard D. McPherson, 22, Fremont: breaking and entering from Dodge County; one to three years; April 14, 1966.

—Curtis Johnson, 30, Omaha; burglary from Douglas County; three years; May 24, 1966.

—Leon L. Jones, 28, Omaha; shooting with intent to kill, wound or maim; Douglas; three years; March 24, 1966.

—Thomas E. Stankiewicz, 20, Omaha; burglary from Douglas County; two to four years; Jan. 4, 1966.

—Truman W. Walker, 21, Omaha; burglary from Douglas County; one to three years; Oct. 4, 1966.

—Charles Wabs, 35, O'Neill; bad check from Holt County; two to three years; June 28, 1966.

—Frank Borgmyer, 22, Norfolk, burglary from Madison County; two years; Oct. 8, 1966.

—Ronald W. Rhamy, 27, Lincoln; forgery from Lancaster County; 1½ to three years; Feb. 23, 1966.

TIEMANN'S 'SELL NEBRASKA' CAMPAIGN MOVES TO RACINE

Racine, Wis. (UPI)—Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann moved his "sell Nebraska" campaign from the Chicago area to this Wisconsin city Tuesday.

A jet airplane carried the governor and his staff here from a National Electronics Conference in the Windy City. The trip was hosted by an industrial friend of Nebraska Lt. Gov. John E. Everroad.

Meeting with Tiemann here were executives from the Johnson Wax Co. and the J.I. Case Farm Machinery Co.

In Chicago, Tiemann talked with major meat packing interests as well as electronic firm representatives.

"There is much interest in the irradiation and sugar ester processes," the governor said. "One of the packers is interested in a joint pilot project for the sugar ester process but right now it is just in the laboratory stage."

Tiemann said he will ask the 1969 Legislature to appropriate funds for the project.

House Refuses To Accept Senate $10 Billion Bill

Washington (AP)—The House refused Tuesday to agree to Senate-voted increases in appropriations for the administration's model cities and rent subsidy programs.

It returned to the Senate by voice vote a compromise $10 billion appropriation bill to finance more than a score of government agencies for the current fiscal year.

The action, in effect, sends the bill back to a Senate-House conference committee, since the Senate was not expected to bow to the House but to insist on at least some of the increases it originally voted.

Both the model cities and rent subsidy programs have been controversial parts of the antipoverty program.

People Protection

Munich (AP)—Alfred Meier, a Munich lawyer, says organizations have long looked after birds and animals and that a stray kitten stirs more public sympathy than someone unjustly arrested. He registered his new organization, Society for the Protection of People, and said it is to help fellow citizens who are in trouble with society and its institutions.

Six Exiles Tried Hijacking Ship To Attack Cuban Vessels

Miami, Fla. (AP) — A Bay of Pigs invasion veteran said in a statement read to a federal court jury Tuesday that he and five other Cuban exiles hijacked a ship last July in a plot to attack Communist Cuban vessels.

"We wanted to make forays on Cuban vessels sailing on the high seas," said Ramiro de la Fe in the signed statement.

"The plan went awry," said statements by De la Fe and other defendants in the piracy case when they missed a rendezvous with a second vessel. It was to have taken them on the foray, De la Fe told Chicago FBI agents in the statement.

Statements by two other defendants told of a futile scheme to commandeer the Panamanian freighter and rescue political prisoners held by Fidel Castro.

"We wanted to go to Cuba and rescue some people," said the statement by Sergio Freijo. "We wanted to get them out of Cuba."

The statements were obtained by the FBI and read in court over the objections of defense attorney Aram Goshgarian.

"On July 10, 1967," the Freijo statement said, "two other persons and I drove from Chicago to Miami for the purpose of taking a boat at gunpoint and meting another boat. I met in Miami Beach with five other people for the purpose of going aboard the SS Freight Transporter."

Freijo's statement said: "We hid in a trailer on the ship and all six of us carried firearms. A midnight on July 11, we emerged and put our guns on the captain. We told him to stop the ship. We gave him half an hour to anchor it."

Another defendant, Manuel Alvarez, told essentially the same story as Freijo in a signed statement given the jury.

The men are being tried in the first federal piracy trial in nearly half a century. They specifically are charged with hijacking the vessel Freight Transporter off Miami Beach July 11.

The trial began last week. Witnesses testified that six armed men commandeered the ship and abandoned it several hours later when allies apparently failed to keep a rendezvous at sea.

Federal Judge Claude Atkins ruled the confessions of Freijo, Alvarez, De la Fe and Umberto Perez could be heard but withheld the confession of Armando Betancourt. The sixth defendant is Carlos Mendez.

All the defendants but Perez are from Chicago. Perez is a Miamian.

Negro Calls Trial Unfair, Tries Leaving

Morristown, N.J. (AP) —The trial of Negro playwright-poet LeRoi Jones on weapons charges stemming from last July's Newark race riots was interrupted Tuesday after he tried to stalk out of the courtroom and had to be handcuffed and ordered behind bars.

Jones, 33, was grabbed by court officers as he started to walk out of the courtroom shouting, "This is not a court of justice and you are not qualified to try this case. I will not be judged by you or 100 white people.

"They are not my peers," he yelled to Essex County Judge Leon Kapp. "They are my oppressors. I will not be judged by this kangaroo court."

The trial resumed after a recess of several hours and selection of a jury began.

Jones is being tried with two other men on charges of illegal possession of weapons during the Newark riots last July which claimed 27 lives.

Jones' outburst came after he asked for permission to make a statement. The two codefendants, Charles McCray, 33, and Barry Wynn, 23, both of Newark, sat quietly through Jones' performance.

Jones and his codefendatns have been free on bail since their arrest July 14, when police charged them with possessing two pistols and ammunition in a camper bus in which the three were riding.

At a pretrial hearing the three defendatns denied having possessed the guns.

Meet a 1968 "youngmobile" from Oldsmobile.

Now that you've been introduced, why not get together?

Why not take the wheel of this Cutlass S—youngest looking, youngest acting Oldsmobile in seventy years. Young looks? Cutlass S has them stem to stern, from sporty louvered hood to rakish rear deck.
And backing up those young looks is young performance:

A new 350-CID Rocket V-8 that delivers more power at lower operating cost. (And does it more smoothly and quietly, as well.) You say you prefer a Six? Olds has a 250-CID Action-Line 6, too. These are only openers. You can tailor Cutlass S to your fancy and finances. 4-speed stick to stereo to sporty pinstriping. Front disc brakes to dual exhausts to Rally Sport Suspension. (All the new GM safety features are standard.) Better come in and meet the whole Olds family—elegant Toronado and Ninety-Eight, popular new 88, smart new Cutlass; sporty 4-4-2, bigger-than-ever Vista-Cruiser and dollar-saving F-85. What it adds up to is this: If you like cars with a lot of pizzaz in the way they look—cars with a lot of moxie in the way they drive—your Oldsmobile Dealer is the man to see. They're the only kind he carries.

The Roman historians read like a bunch of gossip columnists. Of the Emperor Caligula they reported:

"The crown of his head was bald, which showed how much he was given to women."

Is that libel? Or flattery?

☆ ☆ ☆

Crisp mornings around here. Totted up my goods and chattels — I was reading another book recently and told the household wren, "In those days, you would be nothing but a chattel."

Well, you would have thought I'd used a horrid word. Or insulted her family. I tried to explain, "I just said if we had lived in those days—." But there is no use throwing logic away on these household birds. Waste of time.

☆ ☆ ☆

Anyway, I added up the debts and the bank loans. The hopes and daydreams. It appears we are fairly solvent —for a change.

Almost immediately, I picked up the morning journal and read:

"The average American is now $1,627 in debt, whether he knows it or not."

This is the amount the Great Society is behind for every man, wren and child.

The government is spending some $6 billion more than it takes in. And you owe it, and I owe it.

☆ ☆ ☆

The average American is a man I do not know. He is described by government economists.

"He is 30 years old. He has two children and a mortgage on the house." (The lively ones have a second mortgage as well. Live it up!)

"He is the same height as his father was." (Not getting any taller. Not getting any younger either.)

This information comes from your government economist — the guy who has got you into debt for $1,627 that you don't know about. I should pay attention to what he says!

☆ ☆ ☆

Showing how much he is given to women? More likely from butting his head against brick walls.

I always wonder how they arrive at the "average man."

He is like the "Man-on-the-Street." When I was chopping out verbs and adjectives for the journals, we were often sent out to interview the Man-on-the-Street.

"Go out and ask a lot of people what they think of the sewer bonds," said the city editor. "Do a Man-on-the-Street story."

☆ ☆ ☆

This was an afternoon's license to run across the street to a newspapermen's saloon called Hanno's and interview the bartender.

It may be that more talented men really found a Man-on-the-Street. But I never did. Just turned out some quotes and imaginary quoters.

On the street, nobody looked average. They looked harassed and irritable or in a hurry. But not average.

☆ ☆ ☆

About that national debt. There is nothing average about who owes the $6 billion.

It is owed by you and me. Fat people, thin people. Rich people, poor people.

It is also owed by your children.

Does your child have $1,627? If not, you owe that, too.

When the federal bagman comes around to collect, he is not looking for Mr. Average. He is looking for cash.

☆ ☆ ☆

That is a depressing thought for a sunny morning. When I had just added and subtracted and figured I was a few points ahead.

It was a poor time to ask me, "Don't you think we should trade in this car and get a new one?"

"Do you think I'm made of money?" I said. ("Yes," said the tax collector.)

Checks Slow Traffic

New Delhi (AP)—A government committee has concluded that highway traffic in India is seriously impeded by the number of roadside checkpoints. It estimated the transport industry alone loses 50,000 truck hours a day by being required to stop at checkposts set up by police, sales tax collectors, prohibition squads, antismuggling details and the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Save That Blade

If the topsy-turvy football season has you about ready to slash your wrists because you've found it impossible to beat your neighborhood bookie, save that blade when you're through.

If you think you have problems this football campaign, how do you suppose the bowl sponsors are feeling about now with the season only half over and with the prospect of having a very unattractive slate for New Year's Day viewers?

Consider that of the 11 major teams remaining unbeaten and untied at this juncture, only eight are eligible for bowls and you have to throw in East Carolina to come up with that number.

Two of the 11 are Harvard and Dartmouth, and they, like Notre Dame, don't believe in emphasizing football to the extent of recognizing post-season bowl games.

That leaves only Southern Cal, UCLA, Colorado, North Carolina State, Wyoming, Virginia Tech, Indiana, Tulsa, and, oh yes, East Carolina.

You can eliminate either Southern Cal or UCLA since they play each other yet and in addition, only one of them can go to a bowl.

So that leaves you with only eight and how attractive would a Virginia Tech-Wyoming match-up be in the Sugar Bowl?

Ratings Even Dimmer

But if you're going to use the national ratings to select bowl teams, the picture is even dimmer for the bowl sponsors.

Only five of the top 10 teams in the national ratings are free to barter with bowl moguls and again here, you wind up with some very unattractive pairings especially for selling soap suds or starting auto rebellions on national TV.

Among the rated teams, UCLA or USC is committed to the Rose Bowl while the other watches on television. Seventh-ranked Purdue or 10th ranked Indiana must go to the Rose Bowl while the other watches and you can't count Minnesota out of that picture yet.

Houston is on probation and must stay home.

Now that leaves Colorado, Tennessee, North Carolina State, Georgia and Wyoming among the rated teams for the sponsors to court in the next few weeks.

The most attractive game at the moment would be a pairing between third-ranked Colorado and fourth-ranked Tennessee — and if that comes about, you can bet it's in the Orange Bowl at Miami. That's where Colorado wants to go.

Three Up For Grabs

That would leave the Sugar Bowl and Cotton Bowl groping for North Carolina State, Georgia and Wyoming if they want to go with the rated teams.

The Cotton Bowl is likely to suffer because of its refusal to give up the Southwest Conference champion as its host team in Dallas.

And that SWC champion is likely to have its nose bloodied by at least two and possibly three losses before taking the field in Dallas on New Year's Day.

Don't bet on any of the above pairings, but you can bet there'll be plenty of unrated teams in bowls this year —and also plenty of teams with 8-2 and 7-3 records.

It's been that kind of season.

Omahan Finishes Two Shots Over Williamson

. . . HIGH WINDS BOOST SCORES

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Omaha — John Frillman, playing his home Happy Hollow Country Club course here Tuesday, won the Nebraska Section Championship of the Professional Golfers Association Tournament.

Frillman, who came to Happy Hollow three years ago from Chicago, battled the high winds Tuesday for a five-over-par 77 that matched Bud Williamson Jr. of the Hastings Lochland Country Club for the day's low score and left him a two-stroke winner over Williamson.

"With that wind, it was possible to shoot just about anything out there today," Frillman observed. And a look at the scoreboard where scores ranged from 77 to 90 proved his point.

The balding Omaha pro figured his putter on the closing holes provided the margin of victory.

Williamson, who had started the day two strokes back of Frillman and Bob Schuchart of Lincoln's Hillcrest Country Club, forged into the lead briefly on the front side, but had fallen one stroke back by the time they made the turn, playing in the same group.

"Starting at the 14th hole and through the 17th, Bud was inside of me putting for birdies or pars while I was putting from farther away for pars or bogeys," Frillman explained.

"If I had missed any of those putts and he had made his, he would have taken the lead, but I was getting mine in, then he was missing his."

The final two-stroke margin came when Williamson bogeyed the final hole.

Frillman got birdies at the first hole with a four-footer, the seventh with a 40-footer and the 13th with a six-foot putt.

"I made 90 feet worth of putts on that seventh hole," he quipped. "One of 50 feet Monday and 40 feet today."

Frillman's winning total of 150 was six-over-par for the 36-hole route with Williamson at 152 and Carl Faddis of the Hilltop Country Club in Sidney another two shots back.

Defending champion Merle Backlund of the Grand Island Riverside Golf Club finished fourth at 157.

COLLEGE BACK OF WEEK

Tennessee defensive back Albert Dorsey was named national college back of the week for his play in a 24-13 victory over Alabama that ended a string of 25 unbeaten games for the Crimson Tide. Dorsey intercepted three passes and ran the last one back 31 yards for a touchdown with less than two minutes to go to thwart Alabama's last chance to win. Last Saturday was also Dorsey's 22nd birthday, so he celebrated in grand fashion.

Kinney Finally Has His 'Given Week'

By RICK AKIN
Prep Sports Writer

If McCook football coach Sam Sample had his way, halfback Jeff Kinney would be the high school Player of the Week every week.

"I feel that Jeff's performance has been good enough to be deserving of such an honor on any given week," Sample writes. This is his week.

Kinney, a 189-pounder, Friday averaged 7.9 yards on 24 carries, intercepted three passes, tackled six opponents, scored three touchdowns and threw a 58-yard touchdown pass while McCook was subduing Alliance, 27-0.

Kinney currently leads the Big Ten in scoring with 80 points.

Special consideration goes this week to Doug Alderman, who had the cast removed Thursday from the hand he broke in the fourth week of the season, then Friday quarterbacked Davenport to a 28-18 victory over Bruning.

He scored on two touchdown runs and another with a 74-yard pass interception return. And "his ball handling and faking were faultless even with the handicap," coach Jerry Park notes.

Others in the limelight:

Charley Moore, Lincoln High — Led a balanced attack with 93 yards rushing in 53-13 win over North Platte.

Lee Groteleuschen, Southeast — Quick-starting fullback paced Knights to 13-0 decision over East with 85 yards rushing.

Grail Kister, Hastings — End tackled Norfolk runner for safety and recovered a fumble on his own four-yard line preventing a touchdown in 9-0 win. Also caught four passes.

Wayne Schultz, Battle Creek — 220-pound tackle raised tackle total to 116 in seven games with 11 in 23-0 victory over Newman Grove.

Bill Hile, Lawrence — Completed 10 of 19 passes for 123 yards and three touchdowns and ran one himself in 32-6 rout of Clay Center.

Terry Henke, Western — Eight of his 17 completed passes (for 348 yards were for touchdowns in 65-46 scoring marathon win over Dorchester.

Larry Hill, Syracuse — Sophomore scored three touchdowns in 26-13 upset over Plattsmouth.

—PATRICK'S AERIAL YARDAGE TOPS—

Oklahoma's Owens Leading Big Eight Ground Gainers

Kansas City, Mo. — Two Nebraskans are atop Big Eight individual football statistics this week with quarterback Frank Patrick the leading passer and split end Dennis Richnafsky the No. 1 pass receiver.

Patrick's 63 completions is the best in the league and his 738 yards gained passing is also tops.

Richnafsky has caught 26 passes to rank No. 1 in pass receptions, but trailed Kansas State's Dave Jones in yardage by three yards, 312-309.

CU's Veeder Too Lineman

By Associated Press

The Big Eight Lineman of the Week is big Mike Veeder, Colorado defensive end who ran 45 yards with a lateral for the go-ahead touchdown, recovered a fumble to halt a Nebraska drive, and made three tackles behind the line.

It was the second straight week a Nebraska reject played a part in crumbling Nebraska's four-year Big eight football dynasty. The 6-foot-4, 221-pound Veeder, from Roosevelt High School in Minneapolis, received a "Dear John" letter from the Huskers, so chose Colorado.

A week earlier, Kansas defensive tackle Orville Turgeon, turned down as too small by the Huskers when he played at Valentine, Neb., played a tremendous game in a 10-0 Kansas upset victory.

Veeder is a senior who has gradually developed into a consistent, strong performer. The score was 7-7 and Nebraska had a first down at the Colorado 13 late in the first half. Towering Frank Patrick went back to pass, was smashed from behind by Colorado end Mike Schnitker, the fumble was grabbed by Veeder, who ran 61 yards to the Husker 25, but the ball was ruled dead at the Colorado 14.

A short time later, Veeder had another chance to run. Safety Dick Anderson intercepted a pass, raced 25 yards to the Husker 45, then lateraled to Veeder, who legged it the rest of the way.

Veeder was the choice over three other outstanding candidates—Al Pepper, Missouri offensive guard; Jon Mosier, Kansas tight end; and Granville Liggins, Oklahoma linebacker.

Other nominees were Kansas State tackle Mike Goynae with 15 tackles, Nebraska center Roger Kudrna, OSU end Jerry Philpott and two from Iowa State, middle guard Willie Muldrew and defensive tackle George Demitri.

Patrick In Tie For 10th Spot

New York—Nebraska sophomore quarterback Frank Patrick has moved into a four-way tie for 10th place in national passing statistics, according to the National Collegiate Sports Services.

Patricks' 63 completions puts him in a tie with Marty Domres of Columbia, Bill Andrejko of Villanova and Ken Stabler of Alabama.

Kansas State's Bill Nossek ranks 22nd in passing with 56 completions. Kansas quarterback Bob Douglas is 22nd in total offense with 818 yards.

Kansas State's Bob Coble leads three Big Eight punters into the top 23 with his nation's leading average of 44.4. Steve Kenemore of Missouri is 16th with 41.4 and Iowa State's Bob Brouillette is 23rd with 40.3.

NU Grid Trio Practice Again

Nebraska's three gridders —quarterback Frank Patrick, halfback Ben Gregory and linebacker Ken Geddes—who suffered minor injuries in Saturday's loss to Colorado returned to Husker workouts Tuesday.

NU head coach Bob Devaney said he expected the trio to be at full speed for Saturday clash with Texas Christian at Fort Worth, Tex.

However, another Husker, tight end Paul Topliff, was slowed during Tuesday's drill by bruised ribs that he suffered in Monday's session.

Shakeup Hits Lower Classes

By RICK AKIN
Prep Sports Writer

Upsets and more upsets cause juggling in Class D and for the No. 1 hole in 8-man play.

Pilger, though suffering its second loss (this to Battle Creek), remains No. 1 in Class D. But elsewhere down the line, all's new.

Amherst advanced from third to second by impressively blasting Wilcox, 25-0. That sends Lawrence down a space even though it eliminated Clay Center from the ratings, 32-6.

No. 4 last week, Wolbach spirals to ninth for losing to Class C Elgin Pope John. Newcastle advances a peg because of it and a 31-0 victory over Bancroft.

Dix and Lyman tied, putting the two in a knot for seventh. Dix held sixth last week. Davenport, a 28-18 conqueror over Bruning, gives in to Dix and Lyman slips to ninth.

The only No. 1 team losing the past week was Sterling — 13-12 against Adams, which pushes the Jets completely out and makes room for Talmage and Madrid Wheatland to slug away the rest of the season for the No. 1 hole.

Bartley drops out for being lumped by Culbertson, and Lewiston, loser to Sterling two weeks ago, must also go.

The aforemented allows Sutherland, and Shelby to advance, and Rising City, Ashton and Republican City to make their first appearances in the eight-man ratings. All three are undefeated.

Barneston, though tying Lewiston, remains since it still hasn't suffered a loss.

Football Weekend Long For Preps

By RICK AKIN
Prep Sports Writer

Thursday and Friday's teachers' convention spreads this week's high school football schedule over five days, starting Wednesday with two headliners in Class B and an intra-city game.

Seward which relinquished its No. 2 place in the Class B Nebraska Prep Ratings for falling, 7-6, to Schuyler travels to Aurora, now second with seven triumphs. Seward has six wins and the single loss.

No. 9 Ogallala comes to Gothenburg intending to keep ahold of its tie for first place in the Southwest Conference where anybody can beat anybody.

Southeast and Pius X celebrate vacation Wednesday night with a 7:30 p.m. kickoff in Seacrest Field. The Knights rebounded from three straight losses with a 13-0 conquest of East, and Pius won its first in seven games, 32-6, over Fairbury last Friday.

Winless East goes to Millard Wednesday night and Lincoln High and Northeast conclude the intra-city jousting Friday night in Seacrest Field. Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m.

If they win, the Links will claim the City Public Schools Championship, having beaten Southeast and East earlier this fall.

The forecast of this week's headliners:

Southeast v. Pius X (Seacrest Field, Wednesday) — Offense should eke the Knights through.

East at Millard (Wednesday)— Best chance of the Spartans' season, but mistakes have been thwarting opportunities.

Seward at Aurora (Wednesday) —Should be high-scorer with Aurora too versatile.

Barneston at Sterling (Wednesday) — Unbeaten must be favored.

Sumner at Amherst (Wednesday) — Fort Kearney title bout. Sumner's domination should continue.

Ogallala at Gothenburg (Wednesday) — It's been a good year for the westerners.

Lincoln High v. Northeast (Friday, Seacrest Field) — The Links again, but the Rockets have progressed enough to make it a game, losing to Grand Island by one. LSH lost to the same team by seven.

Omaha Holy Name at Papillion (Friday) — Virtually a toss-up.

Akin's prep picks page 27.

Brown, Lee Are Honorary PGA Section Members

Omaha—Lincoln Star sports editor Hal Brown and Omaha World-Herald golf writer Don Lee were awarded honorary memberships in the Nebraska Section of the Professional Golfers Association of America during the Section's Championship here.

The memberships were presented by Nebraska PGA president Jerry Dugan at a dinner here for Brown's and Lee's "interest and help in promoting golf in Nebraska."

Brown and Lee are only the second and third persons ever to receive honorary memberships in the Nebraska Section, joining Titleist representative Shot Cox on the honorary list.

Bad Day For Jockeys As 2 Collisions Occur

. . . STAUFFER, STALLINGS HOSPITALIZED

South Sioux City — It was a bad day to be a jockey at Atokad race track here Tuesday.

In the second race, a chain reaction accident sent three horses and riders to the turf and veteran area jockey Don Stauffer to a Sioux City hospital unconscious.

The collision started when Stauffer, aboard Our Doc, was forced backwards into the pack after trying to go around for the lead. Fast Lance, with Gary Houghton up, hit Our Doc's heels, sending both horses down in the middle of the track. Whirlango, with Mike Fetters in the saddle, had gotten off to a slow start in the mile event and was trailing the pack when he fell over the other two downed horses.

Houghton jumped up immediately and helped the other riders off the track and came back to win the featured seventh race aboard Delinda's King. Stauffer, at last report, was still unconscious in the intensive care ward in Sioux City. Fetters evidently got off with bruises.

In the fourth race William Stallings was pulling on the reins of his mount, Quilla Court, to halt the horse after crossing the finish line when the reins broke, hurling him to the ground. He evidently hurt his neck in the fall and was also taken to a Sioux City hospital.

Tide Is Top Attraction; NU-CU 4th

New York (AP) — For the first time this year, the Big Ten failed to draw the largest college football crowd of the week.

The distinction went to the Southeastern Conference for the 71,849 crowd at Birmingham, Ala., that saw Tennessee upset Alabama, snapping the Tide's unbeaten streak at 25 games.

The other top crowds included: Notre Dame at Illinois, 71,227; Kentucky at Louisiana State, 66,652; Colorado at Nebraska, 65,766; Indiana at Michigan, 65,759; Oregon State at Purdue, 60,147; Auburn at Georgia Tech, 59,603; Iowa at Wisconsin, 59,512; Southern California at Washington, 58,151, and Michigan State at Minnesota, 56,554.

USC Paces Dunkel List

By DICK DUNKEL

Southern California consolidated its No. 1 position in college football last week, according to the Dunkel Index.

The Trojans (6-0) beat Washington, 23-6, to set an average scoring superiority of 20.2 points per game over opposition indexed at 94.9 for the total rating of 115.1, far ahead of the pack.

Houston (4-1) returned to second place with 110.5 after walloping Mississippi St., 43-6.

Other leaders, their records, and socres of last Saturday:

Notre Dame (3-2), 47-7 over Illinois; N. C. State (6-0), 24-7 over Wake Forest; Tennessee (3-1), 24-13 over Alabama; Miami, Fla. (3-2), 58-0 over Pittsburgh; Purdue (4-1), lost 14-22 to Oregon St.; Minnesota (4-1), 21-0 over Michigan St.; Georgia (41), 56-6 over VMI; UCLA (6-0), 21-16 over Stanford; Wyoming (6-0), 30-7 over Wichita St.

A progressive index of scoring margin combined with opposition rating, the Dunkel system enables all 650 teams to set their own ratings. Leaders stand as follows:

NWU Harriers Top Two Foes

Omaha — Nebraska Wesleyan's undefeated harriers warmed up for a Friday meeting with unbeaten Doane by sweeping two foes Tuesday to run their dual mark to 5-0.

The Plainsmen had seven finishers in the top ten as they downed Omaha, 24-36, and Simpson, Iowa, 15-50. In the other dual, Omaha routed Simpson, 15-49.

Rich Carey of Omaha paced the field over the four-mile Elmwood Park course in 22:33, with Jim Comstock of Wesleyan 20 seconds back. Omaha had the other three in the top ten, as Simpson's top runner was 14th.

NWU and Doane run at 4 p.m., Friday over the Lincoln East High School course.

Cage Workouts Start At Doane

Crete — Official basketball workouts have begun at Doane College as the Tigers ready for their season opener against the Dana Vikings, Dec. 1.

Leading the Tigers in their quest for a fourth straight post-season play opportunity will be five lettermen and a host of fine newcomers. Leading the list of returning players is Leslie Grant, Evanston, Ill. Grant was the Tigers leading scorer last year with a 16.4 average and also the team's leading rebounder. This year Grant will serve as team captain.

Other lettermen are guard Jackie Owen, a junior from Robards, Ky., who averaged 13.4 points a game and was the Tigers playmaker; Dennis Kruska, a junior forward from Chicago, who hit for 6.3 points a contest; starting center, Turnley Boyd from Chicago; and Loren Coate, a senior speedster from Rock Falls, Ill.

Peru Cross Country Club Eyes Loop Title

Peru — Peru State College, a bridesmaid in the Nebraska College Conference cross country runs the past two years, hopes to become a bride Saturday at the NCC championships in Wayne.

Coach Jim Pilkington's harriers will go into Saturday's meet undefeated in dual and triangular competition during the 1967 season and are regarded by many as the team to beat for the NCC title over Wayne's tough four-mile course.

Elwood Drops In Classification

A corrected error in boy enrollment moves Elwood from Class C to Class D. The Board of Control approved the change at its meeting Saturday, Nebraska Schools Activities Assn. secretary C. C. Thompson reported.

Elwood reported a boy enrollment of 64 for grades 7-12 but only grades 9-12 are considered in classification. Elwood's enrollment in the upper grades is 43, moving it into Class D, which has a cutoff of 55.

Chappell thus advances to Class C with an enrollment of 55.

M16 Rifles In Vietnam Partly Overhauled To Cut Jamming

Saigon (AP) — The U.S. command has partly overhauled all M16 rifles in Vietnam to reduce the controversial weapon's chances of jamming in combat, a high Army source reported Tuesday.

New M16s with a further, major modification are being airlifted to Vietnam as fast as the Colt factory turns them out, he said. So far more than 8,000 of these have been turned over to combat units. The .223-caliber rifle is standard issue in Vietnam.

There are estimated to be 140,000 M16s in the country.

Commanders have been ordered to see that the newly arriving weapons get into the hands of front line infantrymen rather than going to rear area personnel first, as sometimes happens with new equipment.

The M16 has been capable of turning out 150 shots a minute.

The modification made in Vietnam was fairly simple.

A heavier bolt in the recoil system slows down the entire action somewhat. At the old rate of fire sometimes the extracted shell did not have a chance to clear the breech before a new one was being jammed home.

This is no run-of-the-mill Bourbon.
It's Bourbon with a richer, more robust taste. More of the taste that Bourbon was meant to have.
It's Bourbon aged till the years have rounded out the taste and worn away the edges.
It's Bourbon as smooth as a man could ask for. With all the taste of old-time whiskey, yet easy and mellow going down.
If you know enough to know good Bourbon, this one is worth trying.

Hitler's Appeasers Advocated Peace

. . . RUSK WARNS OF SIMILAR ROUTE TO WORLD WAR III

Los Angeles (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Tuesday that ideas voiced by members of the current peace movement are akin to those expressed by appeasers of Adolph Hitler's Nazi Germany before World War II.

Even as Rusk addressed some 1,500 persons at a luncheon at the Century Plaza Hotel here, some 150 antiwar pickets marched outside the hotel, scene of a violent demonstration last June 23 when President Johnson spoke there.

"I have seen remarks that the ideas of the 1940s and 50s are old fashioned, out-of-date, but lo and behold, the new ideas of the 60s are the old ideas of the 30s which led my generation to the catastrophe of World War II," Rusk said.

'No Third Chance'

"These are the same ideas which led us straight into World War II," he reiterated. "We won't have a chance to draw lessons from World War III."

Rusk said those in the peace movement might remember the words of the appeasers of the 1930s who said, "It is too far away. Give him another bite and perhaps he will be satisfied,' and because we were young we gave him another and another."

Rusk received a standing ovation as he began and as he ended his speech to the capacity luncheon gathering, sponsored jointly by Town Hall and the Los Angeles World Affairs Council

The demonstration outside the hotel was orderly and fell far short of the 1,000 participants which a spokesman for the peace action council had predicted.

Young Beaumont Present

One of the demonstrators was Mary Beaumont, 18, daughter of Mrs. Florence Beaumont of La Puente, Calif., who immolated herself on the steps of the federal building here Oct. 15 to protest the Vietnam war.

Demonstrators were a mixed group of teen-agers, mostly hippie types, and adults. They carried signs reading "Dean Rusk, Homicidal Secretary of a Maniac State" and "Rusk Kills." They also chanted antiwar slogans.

Rusk said the peace demonstrators was one of the reasons Hanoi persisted in fighting although it could not win a military victory or hope for the political collapse of South Vietnam.

No Evidence Hanoi Given Styx Missile

Washington (AP) — The Pentagon reported Tuesday there is no evidence Russia has supplied North Vietnam with missiles of the Styx type Egypt launched against an Israeli ship Saturday.

In any event, Navy men say possible use of these weapons against major U.S. ships off North Vietnam is no more of a threat than MIG fighters already there.

Radar detection and early air strikes by U.S. planes would virtually assure failure of missile attack boats to get within their required 15-to-20-mile launch range, sources said.

Patrolman To Speak

Sgt. Wayne Rowe of the Nebraska State Patrol will speak on the use of drugs and narcotics at the regular Thursday noon meeting of the Sertoma Club at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Record Change Asked In House

Washington (UPI) — Rep. Horace Kornegay, D-N.C., rose in the House Tuesday and asked that the Congressional Record be corrected to show him absent Monday.

"I was in fact conferring with constituents in North Carolina," Kornegay said. His colleagues applauded.

Iran Prepares For Coronation

Tehran, Iran (AP)—Persian drummers began beating frenzied rhythms from the tiled domes of the city of Isfahan—an ancient royal capital—Tuesday heralding the approach of the coronation of the Shah of Iran on Thursday.

Workmen hammered decorations into place in Tehran's choked streets and royal decorators put the final touches to the Golesan Palace — including new gold door locks.

Amid the bustle the Aga Khan arrived to attend the coronation. Mohammed Reza Pahlevi has been shah 25 years but he delayed his coronation until he had an heir and felt the time opportune. The heir is Crown Prince Reza, 6.

Nebraska In National CD Exercise

Nebraska and Florida will participate in a national Civil Defense exercise this week which will involve all levels of federal, state and local government. It is the fourth such exercise designed to train government officials and staffs since 1964.

Called "CDEX-67" (Civil Defense Exercise 1967), it will be based on a series of simulated nuclear attacks on the United States.

Major objectives are: To exercise federal, state and local plans for increasing radiness measures during a deteriorating international situation; to provide an opportunity for Civil Defense officials and staffs at all levels to identify and resolve major problems during the in-shelter and shelter emergence period; and, to provide simulated emergency conditions under which officials can exercise appropriate decision-making processes.

All of Nebraska's 93 counties are expected to participate. Nebraska will carry the exercise a step farther by utilizing various and alternate means of statewide communications for reporting the attack situation from counties and cities.

The state's Emergency Operating Center in Lincoln will be in an operational status beginning Friday at 8 a.m. continuing through midnight Sunday.

Transcontinental Air Route Sought

Washington (AP)—Delta Air Lines asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for a transcontinental route on which all flights would serve Omaha, Neb., and Des Moines, Iowa.

The route would extend from Los Angeles-Long Beach and San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose on the California end, to New York-Newark, N.J., and Washington-Baltimore, in the east.

Damage Minor As Students At Kearney Stage Big Rally

Kearney (AP) — What college officials termed over-exuberence or excessive high spirits in connection with Kearney State College's annual Bronco Days, sent a crowd estimated from 500 to 1,000 milling over the campus about midnight Monday. Damage was held to a minimum, and the gathering broke up after about two hours.

All available Kearney police, the county sheriff's staff, eight state patrolmen and campus police kept a watchful eye on the milling students.

Bronco Days are the days immediately ahead of Kearney's football game with their arch-rivals, the Hastings College Broncos, which will be played this year on Saturday night.

However, since students will be dismissed on Wednesday to make way for the district teachers convention, it was presumed that Bronco Days enthusiasm engulfed the campus early.

One observer who was on the campus during most of the incident, said about 500 men gathered at one time, and about 200 of them started downtown in a huge march. However, they turned back within two blocks of the downtown area after Dr. Milton Hassel, Kearney State president, asked them to go back to the campus.

Dr. James Todd, executive vice president of Kearney State, said the damage was minor consisting principally of a broken window or two as the men attempted to enter women's dormitories.

Observers said there was some breakage of doors and furniture also but it was not extensive.

Fracturing new experience from Heublein!
(THE COCKTAIL PEOPLE)

Velvet Glove Malt Liquor

Velvet Glove Malt Liquor is here. A fracturing new experience from Heublein. It's built for men who like their pleasures smooth and well-rounded. That's right. The malt liquor for men. And men only.

It's smooth all right. Velvet smooth. But sneaky. Because it's from Heublein—the people who know how to put authority into a drink.

He'll share the best part of the evening with a doll. But he won't share his Heublein Velvet Glove. If she reaches for it, he's liable to break her arm. Sorry about that.

The one experience a gentleman won't share with a lady.

Stock Market Sharply Lower

New York (AP)—A stock market rally ran out of steam and prices settled sharply lower Tuesday. Trading was active.

Volume was 11.12 million shares compared with 9.69 million Monday.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 6.47 to 888.18.

At its final reading the average violated the August 30 closing low of 893.72 and was down 54.90 from its 1967 peak of 943.08 reached Sept. 25. The descent has been swift since then.

Of 1,489 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 820 fell and 436 rose.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 2.3 to 321.2 with industrials down 4.3, rails off .5 and utilities off .8 to another new low for the year -- a continued reflection of the competition of high interest yielding bonds with utilities, traditionally "yield" stocks.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks declined and four advanced.

Cities Service was the most active stock, off 5/8 to 46⅞ on 212,600 shares. AX single block of 197,000 shares at 46 boosted its total.

Hooker Chemical, off ¼ at 39 on 209,700 shares, was the volume leader most of the day, thanks to an early block of 205,000 shares at 39.

Among other active issues, General Instrument lost 2½, Western Air Lines 1¾ and SCM Corp. 2¼ while Sperry Rand gained 2¾.

Chrysler fell 1¾, Boeing 2, United Aircraft 2¼, Du Pont 1, Eastman Kodak 2⅛, American Can 1¼, Control Data 1, Polaroid 5¼, Xerox 2⅝, Royal Dutch 1¾ and Texaco 1⅜.

The New York Stock Exchange index dropped 28 cents at $52.41.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index fell .54 at 94.42.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchanged.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

All Investments Involve Certain Degree Of Risk

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

When Arthur Brisbane, the famous editorial writer, proposed to produce Ben Hur on Broadway, a theatrical friend reminded him that the classic play had had a long run in New York a few years earlier.

Brisbane countered: "I know all about that, but in the meantime two million more persons have been born."

Similarly, new readers are forever coming over the horizon and need to be exposed to old truisms.

A letter from a German residing in New London, Conn. shows that new savers need to be reminded that investment is risk-taking.

The man, intending to return to Europe, wants a sure-thing growth situation. He prefers a "no load" mutual fund, being reluctant to pay the entry fee. If that is the big consideration, he might seek out closed-end investment company shares which are currently quoted below book value.

More Dogmatic

The inquirer says: "Would I run any risks in doing this, believing, as I do, today's political situation as more or less permanent?" This man is more dogmatic than the Democratic Party, which is soul searching as to LBJ's ability to succeed himself.

He adds: "I am interested in being able to retrieve that money, once having left the boundaries of this country."

No stock assures that the principal invested will be returned intact on demand, but the open-end funds give an opportunity to redeem shares at the current value of the portfolio. No restrictions are made on taking funds out of this country. The United States is one of the few countries offering such freedom.

He adds: "How would I keep in touch with economic happenings?" One purpose of turning funds over to professional management is to delegate decision-making. A fund sends the investor periodical reports, and general conditions can be followed in the weekly financial press.

The correspondent further inquires: "How would I best maneuver around tax regulations?" The problem is not to avoid taxes but to escape double taxation.

Dual Purpose Funds

Desiring growth, the reader might look into the capital (common) shares of new dual purpose funds, wherein all the capital gains, if any, accrue to the common shares, and all the dividends, if any, to the preferred.

The foreigner states: "While being here, I have learned to look at other ways of keeping money than just in a savings account. I believe in America's economic progress over the next years (barring a nuclear blast) and find greater stability here with better communication between the public and industry. Accordingly, I have decided to invest here."

Q.—A Jacksonville, Fla. reader asks about the wisdom of waiting for the yearly mutual fund ratings in magazines, and then buying the top fund in each of various categories.

A.—This is not necessarily an unbeatable scheme, because frequently the star performers in one period fall back in another. Ratings involve comparing horses and apples. Aim to select management of good character, with a satisfactory record of performance through fluctuating markets. One method is to put the same number of dollars periodically into the same good securities for "dollar averaging."

Q.—A Kansas City inquirer asks, "Which of the oil and gas drilling funds do you consider the most promising?"

A.—I have no crystal ball which gives me advance information as to in which wells oil and gas will be found. The best wildcatting companies, serviced by competent geologists, work on a percentage basis and know that any given exploration may indeed produce a dry hole.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Shallenberger's Rites Wednesday

Nebraska City (UPI) — Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for Larsh B. Shallenberger, 85, a well-known Otoe County pioneer.

The services will be at 10 a.m. at the Lett Funeral Home, with burial in Wyuka Cemetery.

Mr. Shallenberger died Sunday in Chicago. He had suffered a broken hip during a fall and died of complications.

He served as a school administrator in Nebraska and Chicago for a number of years, in addition to farming south of here.

Survivors include his wife, four children, a sister, a brother and 10 grandchildren.

Polar Crash Victims Found After 8 Days In Wilderness

Fairbanks, Alaska (UPI)—A 22-year-old Norwegian whose plane crashed on a North Pole flight told Tuesday how he and two companions began eating leaves and bark as hope for rescue dimmed after eight days in the Canadian wilderness.

"We were worried at times," said Rolf Storhaug, of Oslo, Norway, "especially after we saw planes Saturday and they didn't pick us up." He talked about the ordeal in a telephone interview from the remote Northwest Territories town of Inuvik.

Despite frantic efforts to signal the planes "by mirrors and lighting fires," the stranded fliers were not seen that day.

Preparing To Walk Out

"We realized that it might be some time before the planes searched the same area again," said Storhaug. "We thought we could be there a month and were preparing to leave after a week to march to Old Crow, the nearest town."

But the next day bad weather forced a search plane off its course and the pilot spotted the wreckage of the light plane in which Storhaug, Einar Pedersen, 48, Stockholm, and Thor Tjoentveit, 39, crashed Oct. 13 while mapping a polar route. They were brought to the Inuvik hospital Monday.

"For the first six days we didn't see any planes," said Storhaug, but "we were in high spirits all the time.

Made A Shelter

"After two days we left the aircraft and went up to the forest where we made a little creep-in of branches and small trees.

"The time actually went very fast, talking together, working and chopping wood. We had sleeping bags and good equipment," the young co-pilot said.

They had started with a 14-day emergency supply of food. After the search planes came and went without seeing them Saturday they decided they might not be rescued for weeks and began accustoming themselves to eating leaves. When they were finally seen, they were making soup from spruce tree bark.

"We saw a caribou," said Storhaug, "but we didn't manage to get it because we found the gun was jammed by a faulty shell. By the time we cleaned it the animal was gone."

They did bag one bird but hadn't eaten it. "We were saving it for last," Storhaug said.

Although temperatures got down to 10 degrees below zero, none of the men suffered any freezing. Storhaug was the least injured, with a few cuts. Pedersen, the navigator, had a broken arm, and Tjoentveit had many severe cuts and bruises.

Thayer County Home Agent Granted National Fellowship

Jackson, Miss. — The National Association of Extension Home Economists Tuesday announced the selection of Clara Houtz of Hebron, Neb., as one of two national recipients of the Grace Frysinger Fellowship.

Miss Houtz is the University of Nebraska Extension home economist in Thayer County. The announcement was made in connection with the October 24-27 annual meeting of the association.

The $500 study grant, according to the selection committee, will enable study of the "methods used by other states in coordinating university, state, and county agency resources to provide an informal adult education program in rural areas". The home economist plans to observe and collect information in Missouri and one other state, still to be determined.

In 1964 Miss Houtz initiated a continuing education program involving the public schools, Thayer County Extension Service, and the county superintendent. Continued and broadened, the county-oriented program now offers 19 non-credit courses ranging from "Man Faces Change" to "Aviation Instrument Ground School". Over 1000 persons have enrolled.

Traffic Signal Suffers Damage In Hit-And-Run

A hit-and-run driver apparently sheared off part of a traffic signal at 35th and Cornhusker Hwy. early Tuesday morning and sped away, leaving a toppled pole lying in the intersection, police said.

Police said that the base of the pole bore traces of red or maroon paint, presumably the color of the hit-and-run vehicle.

Evidence at the site, including skid marks on an island at the intersection, indicated a vehicle coming from the west collided with the pole, police said.

7 Candidates Announced By Chamber

The names of seven candidates for the 1968 Lincoln Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors have been announced by Chamber Director Donald I. Parker, chairman of the nominating committee.

Nominees are Donald S. Bergquist, president of Lincoln Equipment Co.; A. James Ebel, vice-president and general manager of KOLN-TV; Kenneth D. King, president of Union Loan and Savings; John F. Pavich, president of Nebraska Neon Sign Co.; Harold R. Salisbury, president of Victor Business Forms; Roland H. Tornblom, president of City National Bank; and Ralph W. Tyler Jr., general manager of Gold's.

Any 25 members in good standing can nominate one or more other candidates by petitions, which must be submitted to the Chamber office by Nov. 17.

Negroes Believe Lives Improving, Survey Reports

New York (AP) — American Negroes believe their lives are getting better, differ on whether civil rights demonstrations "helped a great deal," but think the United States is worth fighting for, a new attitude survey said Tuesday.

About half also felt that riots do some good.

The four-year study, published by Harper and Row, also showed that only 5 to 15% feel they are treated "very well" by police, and that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People rank first on doing the most to help Negroes.

Based on information gathered in 1964 in New York, Chicago, Atlanta, Birmingham and a national metropolitan area sample, the study's findings were released by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, which helped finance it. Subsequent surveys, the League said, show little or no attitude shift.

Campaign Funding Measure Reported Shelved By Senate

Washington (UPI) — A bill that would provide $100 million in taxpayers' money to finance 1968 presidential and senatorial campaigns has been shelved for another year, Senate sources said Tuesday.

They said lack of time in the current congressional session and unexpected opposition were the main reasons for holding the bill in the Senate Finance Committee until January.

This delay, committee sources said, will virtually eliminate chances for federal financing of the campaigns for the 34 Senate seats up for election in 1968 because some senators are hesitant to cover themselves under the bill.

But if the bill receives quick action next winter, there still may be time to supply the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates with $14 million each for their 1968 campaign expenses, committee sources said.

Callaway Ending Ties With Radio

Jack L. Callaway, part owner of Radio Station KLIN in Lincoln, announced his resignation Tuesday, effective Nov. 1.

Callaway, who has been general manager of the Shurtleff-Schorr Broadcasting Corp., said he plans to devote full time to a new business enterprise. Shurtleff-Schorr Broadcasting Corp. is owner and operator of KLIN Radio.

He said negotiations are pending for the sale of his 24% interest in the corporation.

Air Ambulance Project May Start By Christmas

By Associated Press

Nebraska's ambulance-helicopter service may be airborne by Christmas, Col. Burl M. Johnson, assistant state civil defense director, said Tuesday.

Col. Johnson said the state is about 60 days away from implementing the experimental ambulance project. The U.S. Bureau of Transportation has approved it although Nebraska authorities have not officially been notified.

Col. Johnson said preliminary plans call for two civil defense helicopters to patrol the Interstate Highway between Lincoln and Omaha and possibly as far west as Grand Island. Service also will be provided to lakes near the Interstate during hunting and recreational seasons.

Col. Johnson said the helicopters will be flown on high accident ratio weekends by Army National Guard personnel, doing the job in lieu of training missions.

Primary purpose of the one-year project is research, Col. Johnson said.

A physician might be assigned to a helicopter to study what actually happens at the scene of an accident. The physician would try to find out "who does what to whom before medical help arrives and how it can be improved," Col. Johnson said.

Regular civilian rescue squad personnel from the areas being patrolled will serve as medical attendants.

"What we are attempting to do is to gain some experience in the state with the problems involved in operating a helicopter ambulance service," Col. Johnson said. "And the people that need the experience are those who are providing surface ambulance service."

Each helicopter can accommodate 11 persons. The crew will include a pilot, copilot and crew chief. There is room in the cargo area for four injured persons on four litters, and four attendants.

About $12,000 has been budgeted for the first year, allowing the two helicopters to operate for a limited number of weekends.

Johnson Is Host

Washington (UPI)—President Johnson hosted President Ahmadou Ahidjo of Cameroon. The two were reported to have talked about more U.S. help for the Trans-Cameroon Railroad.
